Meeting Today

LINCOLN, July 14.—The democratic national committee at a meeting at the home of Bryan accepted the suggestion of the candidate that he be notified at his own home. August 12th was selected as the date. The decision was made over the opposition of the easterners who desired the real opening of the campaign to take place in one of the big centers of activity in one of the doubtful states. It was also decided Kern will be notified at Indianapolis at a date to be decided on later.

In discussing campaign contributions Bryan placed the committee on record as to how the money will be raised and expended. In his address he said:

"Gentlemen, the platform recently adopted by the national convention of our party at Denver contains the following pledge: 'We pledge the democratic party to the enactment of a law prohibiting any corporation from contributing to a campaign fund or any individual from contributing of an amount above a reasonable figure, and providing for the publication, before election, of all contributions above a reasonable minimum.' Mr. Kern and I are in hearty sympathy with this pledge and are gratified at its adoption.

"With its fulfillment a new era in American politics begins. Elections then will be regarded as public affairs, and influences which control them, instead of being secret will be known to the voters. We suggest approval of a maximum of $10,000 and a minimum of $100, all contributions above $100 to be made public before election. We suggest also that on or before October 15th, the publication be made of all contributions of over $100 and that thereafter publication be made, the date the contributions are received and that no contribution of $100 be accepted within three days of election."

The committee then adopted a resolution strictly in accordance with the suggestions made by candidates. The question of the selection of new officers for the national committee was put up to the committee of eleven on motion of Committeeman Hall of Nebraska. The committee is Taggart of Indianapolis, Hall of Nebraska, Mack of New York, Osborne of Wyoming, Green of Rhode Island, Ryan of Wisconsin, Daniels of North Carolina, Wade of Iowa, Tomlinson of Alabama, Cole of California, Brady of Oklahoma. On motion of Cummings of Connecticut the expenditures of the campaign will be published within a reasonable time after the close of the campaign, not to exceed thirty days.

After the transaction of the business the committee was entertained at luncheon by Mr. and Mrs. Bryan. The subcommittee of the democratic national committee will meet at Chicago July 25th, when a chairman and committees will be elected. Joseph Daniels of North Carolina has been elected secretary of the subcommittee.

MECCA OF DEMOCRATS

The first pilgrimage to the "Mecca of Democrats" began today when members of the national committee arrived in a special train to confer with the candidates on the management of the coming campaign. There seldom, so far as outward appearances go, has been a party of individuals so supremely confident of victory as the members of this committee. Much of their confidence is conveyed to the candidates. The conference will last most of the day, but little concerning it is expected to be made public. The chief thing, of course, is the selection of a new chairman, but other momentous matters are to be disposed of.

Tammany Leader Murphy suggested Madison Square Garden of New York for the notification. He pointed out that as Bryan invaded the enemy's country in 1896 to sound the keynote of the campaign, it might be a good thing if he went back there now that it is more friendly. The

THOUGHT BACK WAS BROKEN

Injured Member of Decorating Firm is Taken to Hospital and May be
Out in a Few Days

Christ Johnson of the painting and decorating firm of A and C. Johnson met with a severe accident last night shortly before 10 o'clock while working in an upper story of the shop for a few hours and having finished he went down to the main floor, forgetting to close a trap door he had left open where he had been working. After some time he again went up there and in walking around the room in the dark fell through the open trap door to a cement floor twelve feet below. He was picked up and an ambulance was immediately called. He was taken to the Lutheran hospital, where medical aid was given him.

His condition was not found to be as serious as was first considered and the doctors say that unless he is internally injured he will be out of the hospital in the course of a few days.

It was at first reported his back had been broken.

TAKES DRINK OF WATER; DROPS DEAD

Mrs. Emma Klix dropped dead when about to drink a glass of water while sitting at a table last night at 12 o'clock. The deceased, who was 68 years old, had been troubled with rheumatism, but had been feeling better lately and got up about 12 o'clock last night for a drink. When she attempted to drink she choked and fell off the chair. She was carried to her bed and expired in 15 minutes.

She was a widow and is survived by eight children, all living in the city. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 from the German Lutheran church, Rev. Gamm officiating. The interment will be made in the Oak Grove cemetery with Frank Tillman in charge.

GIRL WHO SHOT FATHER IS FREE

MELVILLE, N. J., July 14.—With scores of neighbors eager to give ball, Helen Polsamus, postmistress in Delmont, a village near here, is free today after fatally shooting her father.

Polsamus, wild with liquor, entered the house and struck down his younger daughter, going upstairs with the expressed intention of killing his wife and three-day-old child, when Helen shot.

Neighbors threatened to lynch Polsamus but were restrained by Helen.

JAILED FOR THEFT OF SUGAR FROM CAR

Henry Whipple was sentenced to fifteen days in the county jail this morning by Judge Brindley on the charge of stealing a quantity of sugar, amounting to $1.00 from a box car in the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul freight yards. Whipple pleaded guilty and was given the minimum penalty owing to the fact that he had a large family to support and was in poor circumstances.

He was fined $10 and costs or fifteen days in the county jail and he accepted the latter.

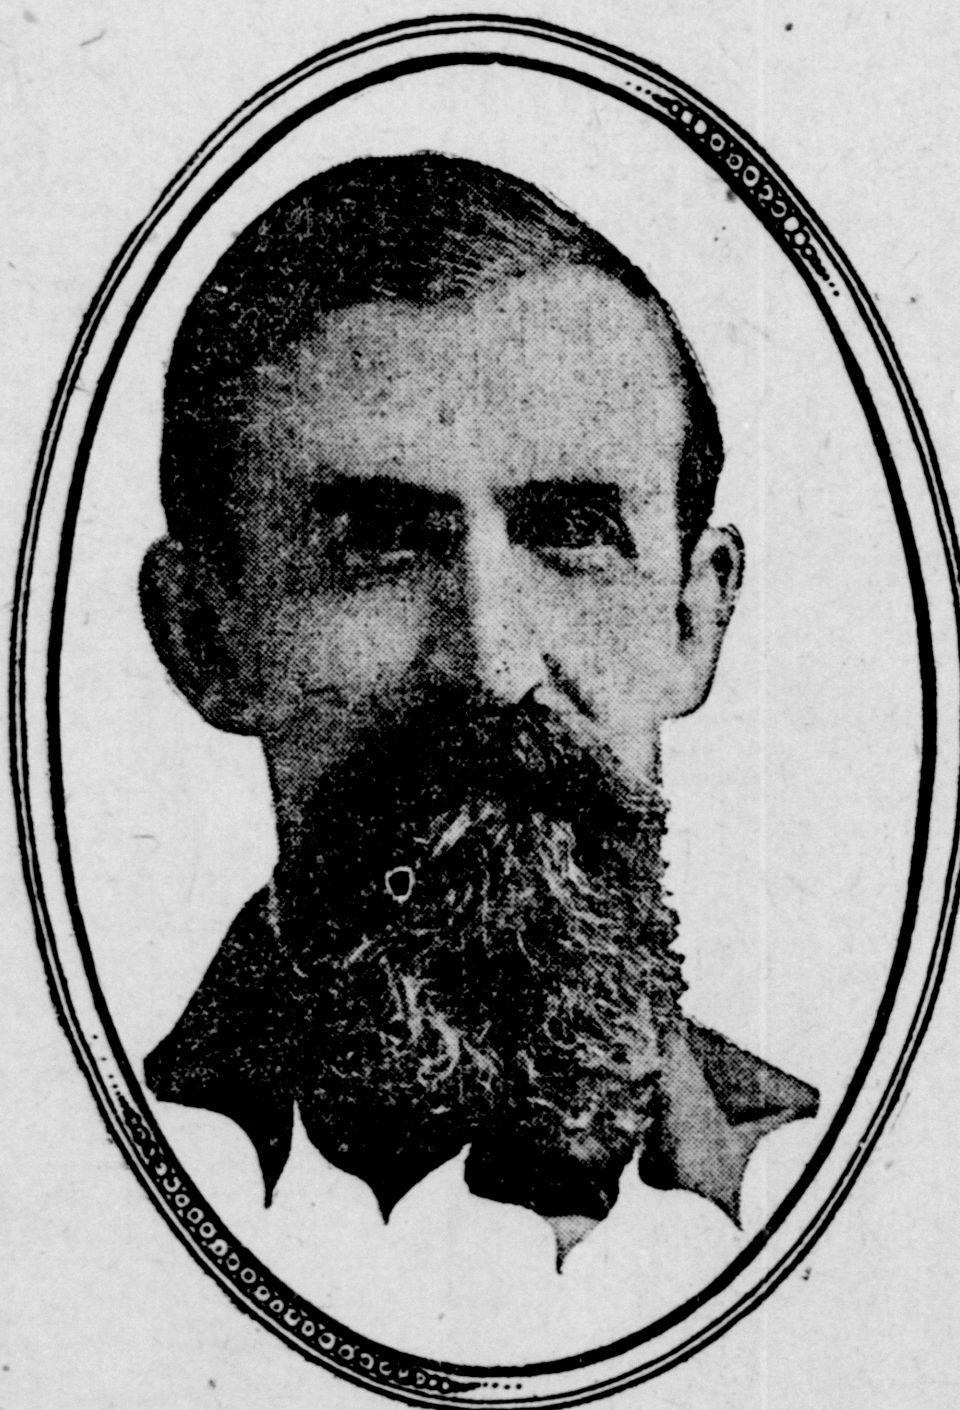

TAFT PORES OVER WAY TEDDY DID IT

HOT SPRINGS, Va., July 14.—Roosevelt's speech and letter of acceptance of the nomination is being studied today by Candidate Taft, as preparation for the actual writing of his own speech. He also is studying books of reference and the national platforms of both parties. It is expected the Taft speech of acceptance will contain a bout 3,500 words and a letter of acceptance, which is expected to be issued early in September, of about 15,000 words.

ROOSEVELT WILL TALK TO STUDENTS

OYSTER BAY, July 14.—President Roosevelt will visit Newport July 22 and address the young officers of the naval war college. No visitors were due at Sagamore Hill today.

WORK OF THIRD UP TO STANDARD

LOCAL CAPTAINS THINK THEIR MEN ARE BEST

DIVIDED ON THE NEW GUNS

Reasonably Good Scores Are Made at the Opening Gun Practice; Tomorrow the Big Day

(By Staff Correspondent.)

CAMP DOUGLAS, Wis., July 14.—The work of the Third regiment is brilliant and with each succeeding day it is growing better, according to the officers. Of course Captains Rawlinson and Wendling of Companies M and B allege that their men are the best on the grounds.

At the close of yesterday's shooting, as in the case of the First regiment, the men were of divided opinions on the new guns. Many thought they were more accurate while other claimed they were not. In either case many good scores were made.

While the La Crosse companies, especially M, fell off on their shooting, compared to previous years, their work was by no means poor.

State Official Shoot.

At the officers' pistol practice yesterday afternoon, Secretary of State Jas. Frear was invited to shoot.

"What am I supposed to do? Hit that target when I'm on top of it?" was his inquiry. "Well, that's easy enough, give me a gun."

He was handed a "colt" and lined up 15 yards away from the target with the other men. The order to fire was given. He blazed away and after emptying the gun turned with a joke about "that being easy" and "I think I hit it every time."

Just then the marked started and after it was summed up it was discovered that he had made 19 points out of a possible 50 and had missed the target, which is of great size, two out of three times.

Senator Munson, private secretary to Governor Davidson, was then given a trial and he succeeded in making a score of 16. The comments of some of those who witnessed the exhibition was to the effect that both gentlemen must "run" better in Wisconsin politics than they shot.

M Wins Ball Games.

Company M of La Crosse so far has succeeded in holding the record for fast ball playing, having defeated Company B twice. A prize was put up at each game.

"General" Ben Lund is the cook for M company, the same as last year and is always "going some."

One of the funny incidents in camp occurred Sunday when a number of men in Company B, Tenth Battalion, succeeded in hiding a nice piece of cheese in the tent of Lieutenant Darrougou. He has been looking for them ever since and threatens to give them all a night in the guardhouse.

Numerous visitors are in camp but the big day will in all probability be

ENGLAND TAKES ON COURAGE

After Watching Americans They Hope to Win Running Races, but Americans Still in the Game

LONDON, July 14.—After watching the running of the "Millers" from the United States in the eight preliminary heats of the 1,500 meter run yesterday, the final heat of which was run today, the English athletes are counting on winning all the distance runs, and are today declaring that their chances for first honors in the final outcome of the Olympiad are better than those of any other teams.

England fears the American sprinters, especially J. A. Rector, of the University of Virginia, and Lawrence Robertson of the Irish-American team, who is reported to have broken the records on trial work.

Today's card is unusually heavy, and it was figured it would take ten hours of hard work to complete the program which included the final in the 1,500 meter run, the hammer throw and 3,500 meter walk.

In the first heat of the 20 kilometer bicycle race L. Meredith, of England, was first; time, 33:21.

The second heat was taken by C. B. Kingsbury, of England, in 32:33 4-5.

G. E. Lerner, the English policeman, picked as a winner in the 3,500 meter walk, won the first heat with ease; time, 16:32.

E. J. Webb, of England, won the second heat in 16:17 1-2.

Goulding, of Canada, won the third heat in 15:16.

In the hammer throwing various sections competed separately, each choosing a man for the final. Walsh, of Canada, threw it 169 feet 1 1/2 inches, and Nicholson, of England, 167 feet 9 1/2 inches.

In the gymnastic events today the Norwegians were easily the favorites.

For the final 1,500 meter run are entered two Americans, J. P. Sullivan and Melvin Sheppard, five Englishmen and one Canadian.

The names of the Englishmen are Hallows, Loney, Deakin, Wilson, Fairbairn and Crawford. Talt is the Canadian entry.

Flanagan Wins Hammer Throw. John J. Flanagan of the Irish-American team of New York, won the final in the hammer throw.

LONDON, July 14.—Melville W. Sheppard of the Irish-American club of New York won the final heat, and the race, in the 1,500 meter foot race. Time, 4:02 2-5. Wilson, of England, finished second to Shep-

STEAMER LA CROSSE EN ROUTE, July 14.—(Special.)—After an hour and a half of sightseeing and pleasure seeking the representatives of the La Crosse Manufacturers and Jobbers' union en route to Red Wing on their two days' business and pleasure trip, bid adieu to Winona and again boarded the boat after a joyous time. The boat arrived at Winona at noon and left on scheduled time at 1:30. Joining the already aroused and enthusiastic crowd of "La Crosse Boosters" were Bert Van Steenwyk, Bert Spence and Prof. Otto Wieland. The trio had been left in the lurch when the boat left La Crosse and by hurried work had shipped to Winona, where they joined the crowd. After a brief recital of the doings at Winona, the tales were brought to a sudden close by the announcement that dinner was being served below. Dinner proved to be the best success of the trip so far encountered. Jokes were in order and Spence, Langdon, Sorrenson and a few others kept up the merriment until Minnieska hove in sight. Minnieska, situated on a hill overlooking the river, joined in a hearty welcome and the merchants were waiting at their stores for the crowd as

KNIGHT VICTIM OF A FOOTPAD

J. Knight, formerly manager of the La Crosse School of Music, last evening was the victim of a hold-up artist and relieved of about $20 in cash and a watch. Knight was walking on Vine street near the Northwestern depot after midnight, when he was ordered to hold up his hands at the point of a revolver.

Knight readily agreed and was relieved of his valuables and watch after which he was told to move along and keep his mouth shut.

Knight at once notified the police and a search was made but up to the present no clues have been found to the guilty parties.

SULTAN ALARMED BY BIG MUTINY

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 14.—The mutiny in the sultan's unpaid troops in various Macedonian garrisons spread today and a force was sent to Monastir to punish the deserters.

The mutiny at Monastir garrison, the strongest in Turkey, followed the rebellion in Kastoria. The Porte sent a hundred secret service men and eleven officers of the seventeenth battalion of light infantry, to learn the situation.

On their representations, new troops were sent to take over the garrison. These troops were won over to the cause of the mutineers when they learned the latter had been unpaid for many months. The sultan is thoroughly alarmed.

WESTERN GOLF TOURNAMENT ON

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., July 14.—Chandler Egan came within one stroke of tying with Kenneth Edwards of Midlothian, on the second qualifying round of the western amateur golf tournament today. He scored low of 74, one above the course record, and finished with a total of 153, against 152 by Edwards. He was followed by a large crowd, who cheered repeatedly.

W. W. Wood, of Midlothian, finished the second round with 76 and a total of 154. Allen, of St. Louis, who scored 74, took second place in the first round, and had not returned until late this afternoon. He is being watched with much interest.

SPECIAL TO CAMP DOUGLAS TOMORROW

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road has completed plans for running a special excursion train to Camp Douglas tomorrow.

Governor's day is the feature and as both the local militia companies are in camp it is expected a large number will avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing the boys in action. The train is scheduled to leave here at 7:30 and makes stops at all the stations enroute.

FINED FOR ABUSE

A. F. Reichgelt pleaded guilty before Judge Hunt in police court today on the charge of using abusive and obscene language to T. Morgan and was fined $2 and costs amounting to $4.50. The fine was paid.

WHAT THE DENVER CONVENTION MEANS

REVIEW OF THE IMPORTANT
DEMOCRATIC MEETING

PEOPLE NOMINATED BRYAN

Those Delegates Who Represented
the "Interests" Would Rather Have Man They Could Handle

(By A. M. Brayton.)

DENVER, July 14.—When the national democratic convention adjourned sine die, thousands of people began scattering for their homes, or pilgrimages to the beauty spots of Colorado, their hearts stirred by varying emotions. So am I, in the hour of my departure with Mrs. Brayton for Colorado Springs, Pike's Peak, the Moffat Road and Cripple Creek, moved by a medley of feelings and impressions making definite expression difficult.

But before closing the book of this splendid experience, there seems something still to be said. This has been a convention of fine emotions, fine purposes, fine ambitions. No matter how men may disagree as to the judgment of those who participated, no high-browed American can feel aught but pride in the fine display of patriotism and noble citizenship which has dominated the gathering. Oratory, so lacking in the Chicago convention, was here rampant and glorious. "Fiddling Bob" Taylor, Tennessee's new senator, in an off moment of the convention, tickled his hearers with sunbursts of dignified and irresistible humor. The fire with which the splendid speech of Governor Haskell of Oklahoma, defending the majority report of the credentials committee which threw Standard Oil Guffey of Pennsylvania into the political discard, was a flame that roused the hearers of that daring castigator of monopoly to a frenzy of delight. "Go back to your Standard Oil tanks," roared the Oklahoman. Some of the Guffeyites hissed. Pointing his finger at the pale and enraged Guffey, "I've heard that sound from a leaky pipe line before!" challenged Haskell, and silence settled vast and still over the Guffey camp. Ignatius Dunn of Omaha—youthful, enthusiastic, optimistic—loomed up a top-notch orator when in naming the Commoner he lighted the fuse which ended in a one-hour-and-twelve-minutes explosion of the human combustible which is politically dubbed the "demonstration." Ollie James, the greatest orator of them all, showed Bryanque powers of head, heart and voice when he delivered the address which will go down in history as the greatest political speech of 1903, nor should the masterfully scholarly effort of Temporary Chairman Bell of California be overlooked among the oratorical gems which this convention produced. Fitting indeed that impassioned oratory of the highest merit should have marked the nomination of the author of the famous "Cross of Gold."

Who Wanted Bryan
Bryan's election was almost unanimous on the first ballot, but that is a deceptive statement. Many of those who voted for him did not want him. As Senator La Follette said, they wanted a man who "is all right." The majority of the delegates wanted him; practically the entire gallery and auditorium wanted him.

Origin of Blaze Unknown—Mrs.
Bruha Is Taken to Hospital in Serious Condition

In a fire which destroyed one barn and a chicken coop and damaged two or three adjoining houses the aged mother of A. J. Bruha, Ninth and Adams street, was probably fatally burned, Arthur Bruha, her grandson, was seriously burned and injured, and Leo Keil, a teamster, and George Sholes, a neighbor, were slightly burned. Property loss of about $700 was sustained.

At about 1:30 fire was discovered in the Bruha barn, adjoining the residence. It appears, from what can be learned that the aged Mrs. Bruha, who is 75 years old, was in the chicken coop. How she got into the fire is unknown unless she went in to the burning barn in hopes of extinguishing the flames. She was seen there by her grandson, Arthur, aged 14, and in rescuing her the lad was seriously burned about the hands and face.

Four horses, two owned by A. J. Bruha and two by Hammes Brothers, were in the barn, but were rescued by Leo Keil, teamster. He was seriously burned in the rescue. George Sholes, a neighbor, was also burned about the hands in assisting in the work of putting out the fire.

There was gasoline stored in the barn, from the Hammes and Bruha groceries, and Keil, the teamster, had been in the barn but a few minutes before the flames were discovered. However, he noticed nothing out of the ordinary.

The residences of A. N. Hammes, Chris Halbach and George Sholes, adjoining, were burned to some extent, the first two suffering damage to the roofs. Hammes' loss is estimated at $75 without insurance, while the Bruha loss is between $500 and $600, the barn being totally destroyed.

Mrs. Bruha was hurried to St. Francis hospital and is being cared for this afternoon by physicians. It is not known at this time whether or not she will survive.

The St. Louis Browns yesterday defeated Washington two games in a double header and thereby taking the lead in the American league. The Tigers, who are the owners of the coveted position, were only able to break even with Boston. The White Sox broke even with Philadelphia, and Cleveland shut out New York by the score of 2 to 0.

In a rally in the ninth inning the Cardinals took yesterday's game from Brooklyn by the score of 3 to 2. Konetch was there with his usual hit, getting one swat for 3 bases at four times up. The Cubs lost a batting bee to Philadelphia by the score of 6 to 5. New York took a double header from Pittsburgh, and Boston won an eleven inning game from the Reds by the score of 3 to 2.

Milwaukee lost a pitchers' battle to the Millers in ten innings by the score of 2 to 1. Schneiberger and Fiene were the opposing twirlers in the fest. Columbus found Louisville for the game yesterday by the score of 2 to 1. Kansas City defeated the Saints and Toledo defeated Indianapolis.

Wausau, Wis., July 14.—(Special.)—Bartos was the hero of the opening game here between the Lumberjacks and the La Crosse Pinks. He was in fine form, allowing but three scattered hits that tallied one score. This came in the ninth inning, after a beautiful rally had been inaugurated. Eberly, who is getting to be one of the La Crosse star hitters, batted for Safford in the ninth, got a two-bagger and was brought in, later. With the bases full Harnes appeared at bat. He was one of the trio to bag hits from Bartos delivery, but he failed and struck out, retiring the side. Jones was in the box for La Crosse and in three innings was touched up for five runs. In the fifth inning Nicholson was sent in and from then on held things pretty well his own way. The score:

War Against Consumption
All nations are endeavoring to check the ravages of consumption, the "white plague" that claims so many victims each year. Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds perfectly and you are in no danger of consumption. Do not risk your health by taking some unknown preparation when Foley's Honey and Tar is safe and certain in results. The genuine is in a yellow package. O. T. Erhart.

WORTH $250,000; NOW PLANS TO WED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—Oscar Battling Matthew Nelson declares he is satisfied with his flat honors and contemplates getting married, quitting the ring and leading the simple life. He claims to be worth $250,000, which makes him the richest prize fighter in the world, and another recommendation to the good graces of some fair damsel is the fact that his wildest dissipation is dancing. In discussing his affairs, the "Battling" one said:

"I am content. At last I am recognized as the only real live champion lightweight fighter in the world. I have long known that I could beat any man in the ring at my weight, but I have had a hard time convincing the public at large of my ability. Now that I have shown them by decisively beating Joe Gans, I have accomplished my one great ambition in life and in doing so I have collected so much of the so-called 'root of all evil' that I don't know how to get rid of it without disturbing the peace. I have not been foolish with money, like some former champions, but have invested it wisely. Today I would not sell all of the property that I have for a quarter of a million dollars."

"After my fight with Gans I think I'll settle down. I have no bad habits and my only dissipation, if it may be termed thus, is dancing. Next to fighting, I'd rather dance than do anything else. And after dancing comes hunting. I have made up my mind to pick out some nice girl, if I can find one that'll have me, get married and lead the simple life. I've got lots of girl friends throughout the country and I have seen several that I would be willing to make my wife. However, I'm not a Mormon, so I'll have to select only one. When I find her, I'll retire from the ring for good."

"I have just bought eighty acres of land at Livermore, about forty miles west of San Francisco, in Alameda county. This week I'm going into the mountains to hunt big game for a while."

"I want to say this to the boys who will read my story: I have never smoked, chewed, drank or played cards for money in my life and I never intend to. I have fought eighty-one battles during my career as a prize fighter and I am proud to the square."

NO PERSONAL ATTACKS.

One of the interesting promises of the coming presidential campaign is the implied promise of the democrats that there will be no personal attacks upon Mr. Roosevelt or his policies, or upon the personality of Mr. Taft. It is indicated that the guns of democracy will be trained on the Wall street and trust interests behind the republican candidate and which they claim have already donated over two and one half millions to the campaign of the republican nominee.

That Mr. Bryan will do an effective work in the coming campaign is a certainty. The following from the Milwaukee Free Press upon the personality and staying qualities of the democratic nominee clearly sets this forth:

"Collier's draws first blood in the battle for personal articles concerning the presidential candidates with which the country will be flooded from now on until election time.

"Under the caption, 'Bryan as a Speechmaker,' in its current number, two intimate glimpses of the 'peerless one' are offered by men who may be supposed to know.

"Speaking particularly of his Chautauqua activities, Edmund Vance Cook presents some interesting figures. He says that Mr. Bryan has filled from 100 to 150 Lyceum and Chautauqua addresses yearly for a dozen years; that in the course of last season he spoke in this manner to 300,000 people; that from this source alone he makes in the neighborhood of $25,000 in a single summer, $1,200 being the record for one day.

"From Robert R. Rose, the official shorthand reporter of the two Bryan campaigns comes more personal data. Early in his association with the candidate, he discovered that Mr. Bryan had never touched intoxicants or used tobacco in any form. To this fact and the Nebraska's peculiar powers of recuperation, Mr. Rose attributes his phenomenal success as a campaigner. On his speech-making tours, Mr. Bryan made it a practice to sleep after each address and as long as possible. If he had worked himself into a perspiration he was rubbed down with alcohol and given a complete change of clothing.

"There have been times when Mr. Rose filed as many as 30,000 words spoken by Mr. Bryan in a single day and there have been days when the candidate spoke intermittently from five o'clock in the morning until half past two of the following morning. Of the 1,400 speeches reported during the two campaigns no two were alike.

"Mr. Rose further bears witness that under the most trying conditions he never knew Mr. Bryan to lose his good humor, nor did he ever show signs of physical exhaustion."

SCHWAB AND VANADIUM.

Charles M. Schwab, who has just returned from Europe, talks in a very confident way about a working agreement that includes the United States Steel corporation and the steel companies of Belgium, Germany and Russia.

He says that the men interested in the agreement "control practically all the vanadium in the world, and art thus able to hold the steel situation in their own hands, as the experiments at the Bethlehem works have proved that the vanadium process will produce the sort of steel that all the great companies have been aiming at." Vanadium "is being used largely in specialties, such as the manufacture of automobiles and tools, but it is to be had in such quantities that the process can be used in making steel for every purpose for which steel could be used."

It would not be surprising if Mr. Schwab were talking in part at least for business reasons of his own rather than from a desire to enlighten the world on a subject of great scientific and economic interest. But, taking his interview as it appears, we have in it the forecast of a perfect trust. The men who own the vanadium should in time become the sole producers of steel, dispense with the word price entirely and meet occasionally to decide on the tribute that must be paid them. Perhaps, however, there is a little vanadium left in odd corners which might be fenced off by government and projected among the natural resources of various countries. At any rate, the interview is likely to give an impetus to the discussion concerning natural resources about which people know more than they do about vanadium and concerning the tendencies toward monopoly and their probable outcome.—Chicago Record-Herald.

NEW RAILWAY SIGNALS IN GERMANY.

Several recent railway accidents in Germany have been traced to the failure of engine drivers to see signals, and this circumstance has caused the Prussian railway administration to adopt a new signal apparatus.

The feature of the new system lies in the warning given the engine driver that he is approaching a signal about 110 yards before the signal itself is actually reached. This is accomplished by the use of an electric cab signal system which arouses the driver's attention by ringing a bell and exposing a white side directly before his eyes in the cab. With his attention thus stimulated the driver will have no excuse for running by a signal in a fog.—Railway Magazine.

THE UNREST IN THE EAST

Whatever may be the outcome in Persia, the events at Teheran have a far wider significance. They form a part of the unrest in the east, which is beginning to be one of the gravest problems of the day, and the adjustment of modern ideas of government and liberty to the ancient customs and modes of thought of the Orient is going to be a process followed by momentous consequences.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Sometimes people think they are unhappy when they are only bilious.

SPOTLIGHTS

"Sapho" Tonight

"Sapho," Alphonse Daudet great play, will be presented by the Van Dyke & Eaton company at the La Crosse theater tonight.

Wednesday (matinee and night) "The Red Cross Nurse" will be the bill. After the last act on Wednesday evening a young couple living in the business part of La Crosse will be married on the stage.

In addition to the cash prize, a drop end davenport, now in window of the Nelson Carpet company, will be given to the young couple.

Starting Thursday night, at each performance during the engagement, a $4 pair of "Walkover" shoes will be given away to one in the audience holding the lucky number.

ROADLESS AMERICA IN TRANSFORMATION

From the maledictions scattered broadcast in the mire of roadless America by despairing bicyclists fifteen years ago hopes of better times have taken root. So writes C. F. Carter in the August Technical World Magazine. No gift of prophecy is now required to foresee a time when these hopes will have so far materialized that a team, if it is a good one, will be able to haul an empty wagon over the gumbo roads of the Mississippi valley in spring, and the public highways of the south will be so well buoyed that light draught automobiles may navigate them in comparative safety.

From every part of the country comes the same encouraging news. Sixteen states now have highway commissions that are trying in various ways to supply the greatest road of the nation, which is good roads. At one extreme is New York, which in 1905, voted to expend fifty million dollars in building roads. Under the plan adopted the state will build and maintain 3,332 miles connecting the principal cities, and pay one-half the cost of 4,700 miles of local roads to be built by the counties.

At the other extreme is Iowa, the third state in the union in extent of road mileage, where the use of the public highways is so vast that if teams enough could be assembled to do in one day all the traveling done in the state in a year the line would reach once and a half around the earth, which does out an annual appropriation of $5,000 to defray the expenses of the state college faculty while acting in the capacity of highway commission. With this introduction the author writes of what is being done and what can be done to transform roadless America, and the article is illustrated with fine photographs.

RACES WILL NOT MIX.

The establishment of separate schools for the Japanese or Chinese pupils on the Pacific coast should prove an ideal solution of the racial difficulty out there. These children of the far east are, if we look the facts squarely in the face, here on sufferance; the marked differences of blood and color can never be wholly harmonized. Some American girls wed themselves to Japanese men, but such marriages seldom turn out happily, and those who have seen the children of such marriages recognize the severity with which nature exacts a toll for the violation of her laws. Let us be thankful, indeed, that American assimilation of the yellow races is not likely ever to be accomplished.—Washington Herald.

Ready for the Dollar.

Marjorie, aged 9, had not been having very satisfactory reports from school. Her father finally said, "Marjorie, for the first hundred you get I'll give you a dollar." Time went on and the reward could not be claimed. One day the child was taken violently ill. Her mother sent for the doctor. When he had gone Marjorie said, "Mamma, am I very ill?"

"No, dear; your temperature is a little over a hundred, but the doctor thinks you will be all right in a day or so."

Smiles broke through Marjorie's tears.

"Now, mamma, I can have my dollar. Papa said he would give it to me if I could get a hundred in anything."—Delawarean.

QUIPS AND CRANKS AND WANDER WILES

Of Joshway an' de Sun.

(An Uncle Remus Rhyme—By the late Joel Chandler Harris.)
Of Joshway stood in front er his tent
And sic'd his soldiers on,
But when he turned fer ter look
Aroun',
De day wuz nearly gone.

He rubbed his beard, he scratched his head,
An kicked his heel in de groun';
Kaze he wunter finish de battle-job
Befo' de sun went down.

He look to de East an' he look o de West,

An' he wave his han' on high,
"King Sun," sezee, "I want you ter see
Me snate um hip an' thigh!

Come down ter camp an' rest yo'self
A little while wid me.
I'll git you a fan an' big wide cheer
An' set it whar you kin see."

Dey wuz lots mo' talk, but de Sun come down

An' tuck a little ease,
An' when he got too awful hot,
He called up ol' Brer Breezie!

"My time is short," sez de Sun, sezee,
"An' you better do yo' do,
Kaze I'm feelin' like I wunter see
Dis mortal scuffle throo!"

Well, dey fit an' fit an' fowt an' fowt

Right dar in de light er de Sun,
But Joshway frailed um out an' soon
He had um on de run.

King Sun, he say, "I'm overdue
'Cross dar whar de night's still black
De folks will wake 'fo' de chickens crow
An' put der big clocks back."

Ol' Joshway thanked him mighty polite,

An' ax him fer ter come ag'in,
King Sun, he say, "I speck dat I
Will be mosied off, kaze he ain't got time."

For ter set an' talk an' stay;

He batter go off whar de night still dark
An' start ter breakin' day.

Well, time run on an' peop'le spute

'Bout Joshway an' de Sun,
Some say dis an' some say dat,
An' splain why Joshway won;

Sometimes when he wuz settin' 'roun'
Whar he couldn't he'p but hear,
He'd say, "Go in de settin' room an' see

How he scorched my big arm cheer!"

Fooling Himself

An old gentleman in a village not far from Glasgow breakfasted every morning on porridge, and, in order to save fuel, cooked a whole week's supply every Saturday. One Friday morning the stuff seemed very cold and very salty, and he felt he must abandon the struggle to eat it. But his stubborn nature forbade any such thought. So he fetched the whisky from the cupboard, poured out a glass and placed it before him on the table.

"Now, Sandy," said he, "if ye eat that porridge, ye'll have that whisky, and if ye don't ye won't."

He stuck again at the last spoonful, but, keeping his eye steadily on the glass of whisky, he made a bold, brave effort, and got it down. Then he slowly and carefully poured back the whisky into the bottle with a broad grin, as he said to himself: "Sandy, my lad, I did ye thot time, ye auld fule."—Tit-Bits.

"Here, waiter," cried the guest in the cheap restaurant, "this food is simply vile and I don't propose to pay for it. Where's the proprietor?"

"He's gone home to lunch, sir," replied the waiter.—Philadelphia Press.

ALICE AND HER "NICK"

A remarkably clear and distinct snapshot of Congressman Nicholas Longworth of Cincinnati and his wife, Alice Roosevelt Longworth, taken as they were boarding the train at Denver.

THE IRON LORD

A Hitherto Unpublished Story of Immense Power.
By
S. R. CROCKETT.
(Copyrighted.)

Jacob's scheme, as vaguely outlined in his head, was simply to isolate his wife till—well! till death might release him of the burden. As to his daughter—well, he would see for the present there was no need to disquiet himself about her.

But by this time he had taken James Kahn, an adventurer of whom no one knew even the nationality, as his confident and second-in-command. And James Kahn thought he knew a quicker way to rid his master of his burden. And at the same time clear his own way to the heirship of the possible Incubus millions.

He imagined therefore the scuttling of The Good Intent, and the abandoning of the woman and child on the night of the storm. The crew were first sent off by themselves, while the Captain and Kahn landed with their boat farther down the coast—only the two of them saved. Kahn did not lose sight of his accomplice till he had seen his misadventure on his way to the Argentine Republic, with a couple of hundred pounds in his pocket—the payment of which he judged, but considered a good investment.

After that James Kahn felt secure till he saw the girl he had counted dead stand by the door of Dick Finnman's cottage at Glebe End. Mordecai was once more at Haman's gate, and what is more, he had a daughter with him—though only an adopted one.

Choirs and Christians
In spite of being "Kirks," the three churches dwelled in unity—that is, for the most part. To remark that competition was severe is only to say that they were Scotch and Presbyterian. But the usual truck-and-barter of sporadic discontent was ruled out. After all, they were almost equally proud, and with about equal reason.

The Kirk of the Kirk, the Kirk of the original Kirktown, still stood—modernized indeed, but with its ancient bell-tower erect to witness, in its reverend age, to the exact spot where three centuries ago they had burned the last of the Kirktown witches. The Kirk of Scotland was the mother of a brood of children who had set up for themselves. But still, after all, they were children to be proud of.

The "Kirk of Forty-three" was known as the Valley Kirk, just as the Cameronian was the Hill Kirk, and that of the "Establishment" the "Kirkyard" Kirk.

But the haughtiest sect, the most austere, the particular assembly of the stalwarts who had never bowed the knee, was of course the Cameronian fold—a Kirk of the Martyrs indeed, set on the Hill which could not be hid. The very names of the three Kirktown ministers were held to be significant. For the Establishment was pastored by the Reverend August Lamont, who to a vague, dry, official theology added something of Celtic fire and true poetic sensibility. He was a man who would always be young, boyish at heart, not easily taking offence nor meaning to give it, but with an unruly evil of a tongue which, frequently brought him trouble.

John Fowler was the Valley Kirk minister, a learned man and a fine preacher, living perhaps too much upon the mountain-tops of thought. But he educated his congregation, and added thereto daily. For his word was with power, and to him duty had become well-nigh a fetish. Bodily he was trained fine, perhaps too fine. For a mind like John Fowler's, vivid, alert, unsatisfied with anything merely obvious or received, needs a solid bodily envelope to support it. A hard-driven engine ought to have the support of extra-solid bearings and bedplate. For the rest Mr. Fowler was dark-eyed, alert, vivid, and sadly shy with strangers, and indeed, with all whom he felt instinctively incapable of understanding him. Yet, curiously enough, he was at home with all working folk. The common people heard him gladly. However abstruse his subjects of discourse, there was always a nail of fact or principle to join them on to everyday life. Mr. Fowler carried his weight and learning "lightly like a flower," and few who met the rather dreamy and distant man would have guessed at the swift, keen insight which went directly to the heart of a problem, unrooted fallacies and detected the true gold, grown dim under the defilements of street corners and the mire of thronging pavements.

Lastly, the Kirk of the Hill was ministered to by the Reverend Benjamin Irongray. He was the junior of the three and a bachelor—a man of strict view and stricter life, grown a little disheartened from long battering the cold iron anvil of his people's belief. No melting-pots for the faith of the Ironsides! No refiners' fire for the seven times repured gold! The congregation on the hill was "The People," and well it knew it. And so, sometimes to his cost, did their minister.

To this congregation Jacob Romer nominally belonged. A defender of vested rights, an upholder of law and order, he would naturally have been found in the Establishment. But something akin to his own grim nature commended itself to Jacob in the austere and undiluted Calvinism of the Gospel according to the Martyrs.

"If a man is saved, he is saved, and there is no more to be said," so Mr. Romer argued in his rare theological moods. "If he is lost—well, it was so arranged in the Councils of Eternity. Either way, the man has no responsibility in the matter. An excellent doctrine! I conduct my business on these principles, and I expect you, Kahn, to do the same.

Promote a man or discharge him. But never give him a reason. Every going concern ought to have but one head, stern, inflexible, irresponsible—the Incubus Pits just the same as the Universe.

So Jacob Romer gradually became a power in the Kirk of the Hill, but the minister, Benjamin Irongray, was undismayed. So he feared not the face of man—save only his session a little and his choir a great deal. In which he much resembled other ministers.

Now, all choirs are full of the ancient Adam and the no less ancient Eve—Scottish mixed choirs especially. It was the minister's mother who was directly responsible for the Cameronian choir in Kirktown. Mrs. Irongray had been born out of the purple, a mere U. P. brought up under Burgher ministry. So of course she knew no better. Bitter were the conflicts before the Kirk of the Hill would submit to receive a choir.

The minister did not want it. The precursor did not want it. The Session did not want it. Jacob Romer foamed at the idea. But little Mrs. Walter Irongray, with her wire-drawn old-maidish ways—the face of the mother of the "only child"—beat them all just by sticking to it.

But forming the choir was easier than running the choir when formed.

That Indian institution called caste is as powerful in Kirktown as in all other Christian countries.

The best voice in the congregation was that of Vida Bryan, who sat alone in Dick Finnman's pew when Dick took the head of the Elder's seat, just under the precursor's forsaken desk. He conducted the choir now with his back to the congregation, and there were those who felt that a glory had passed from Zion. Still, in the main, the minister's mother had her way. But Vida Bryan also had a will of her own, and having a light blouse for the summer, she declined to change it at the bidding of Mrs. Walter Irongray, for "something dark and respectable."

So it came about that a certain young man of broad shoulders, energetic physique, and quite unaccustomed to church going, found himself Sunday after Sunday in the Kirk of the Hill, in close proximity to the white blouse and white-and-lilac blossomy hat, which spread a springlike freshness about the pew of old Dick Finnman, distinctly noticeable within a radius of ten yards, not counting the gallery.

On the other hand, little Miss Nunsby's father was a New Religionist (the tenets of which sect varied month by month according to Mr. Nunsby's liver), and so he went nowhere. But little Miss Nunsby frequented the Kirk on the Hill, where she mostly disagreed with the sermon, but comforted herself by looking at Vida—her Vida!

"Their choir?—bah!" exclaimed Miss Nunsby, after the music-lesson was over one fine afternoon in early autumn. "Don't speak to me of their choirs. They want to be thought fine singers and to sit peacocking on the platform. Besides, there's the happiness of quarrelling with the precursor, and the summer choir trip into the bargain—you know the announcements in The Kirktown Journal always says 'accompany by their friends and sweethearts.' Are you going to join?"

"Ugh," said Vida, don't, you make me shudder!"

"You needn't," said the little music-mistress, with something of her father's irony, "you will have to do it now. The minister's mother is joining, and all the great people, even Miss McTarter of the paper-shop."

"The one they called Cream o' Tartar," said Vida, smiling languidly.

"Yes, Cream McTarter—her real name is Isabella. Then there's Mrs. Horniman from the livery stables, and the foreman's wives and the butcher's daughter. These are all 'ladies.' How they will get on with the others, who are only village girls I don't know."

"Surely they will not quarrel on Sundays?" said Vida with something of hope in her tone. The Kirk of the Hill was occasionally a dull place during the league-long diets of worship.

"Won't they, though!" cried little Miss Nunsby; "the new comers will snub the 'girls' and 'shop-women'—because, of course, they are ladies. The do not stand behind a counter, but only keep house for their fathers and brothers, who do. The 'girl' will take the best front-row seats by getting early to church, just to spite the 'ladies.' And the whole will be blamed on the precursor. It will be a marvel if the minister manages to keep out of it. He won't if his mother joins the choir!"

"But why does he join her?"

"Who, Mr. Irongray?" little Miss Nunsby sniffed; "that shows that you don't know the minister's mother very well."

"She always is very pleasant when she calls here."

"Yes, Vida," her friend smiled as she spoke; "but then you are not her son." She allowed time for this to sink in, and then continued:

"A manse," said Miss Nunsby, "is, of course, a little out-work of Eden—or ought to be. But Mrs. Irongray sees to it that, if Benjamin does not do as she wants, the house shall be something very different."

"I think you are unkind," said Vida; "even if it were true, you should be sorry. It must be dreadful to have your illusions shattered."

"Ah, I never had any," said little Miss Nunsby, somewhat bitterly. "Nature and my father's teaching settled that for me."

She shrugged her higher shoulder ever so slightly as she spoke. Whereupon Vida rushed at her, the tears welling promptly from her eyes.

"Ah, cruel! Cruel!" she cried, "to speak so of yourself, and to me—who love you so!"

Little Miss Nunsby held her off a moment, quivering between love for her darling and general contempt for the world's inequalities.

"Do you love me—I wonder?" she said thoughtfully. "Can anyone love a thing like me? I would be so happy if I could only know."

"I shall prove it, unbeliever!" cried Vida, with wet eyes.

"Oh you will get married," said Miss Nunsby, "and then it will be all over—except perhaps a cup of afternoon tea once a fortnight, if you live in the neighborhood."

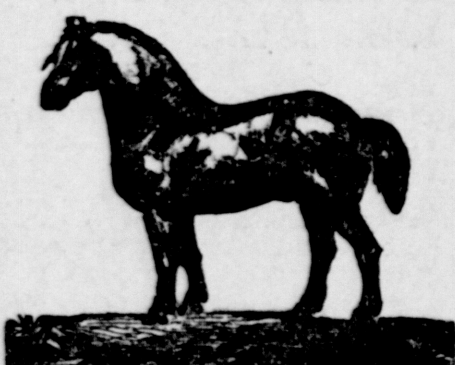

"You shall see—you shall see," answered Vida. "I would not for a hundred husbands that anything should come between us."

The little music-teacher clasped her friend gratefully enough. But in her heart she said, "It is not the hundred husbands, but the one that I have cause to fear."

KLINE SHOWS ARE TURNED DOWN TODAY

ONE CARNIVAL ENOUGH THIS YEAR FOR NORTH SIDE

NEGOTIATE FOR SOUTH SIDE

But Advance Man Gets No Encouragement From Business Men's Ass'n—Show Won't Come

The North side had a chance to get the Kline Carnival company here in the last week in July, but the business men on the North side did not care to make the effort or to take the responsibility, so they "passed it up."

Mr. Oppenheimer, the representative of the company, was in the city today, and after the North side had turned down the proposition, he tried to show on the South side and negotiated with the La Crosse Business Men's association, but without success. The North side was approached first in regard to the matter, but the fact that the carnival was there last week and that the Kline company wanted to show here the last week in July, caused the North side business men to pass it over until next year.

The Kline company is showing at Winnipeg at present and is considered the best company on the road. It has sixteen big shows and carries its own train of eleven cars, so it can be easily seen that the company is a first class one. The carnival has been booked for all the big state fairs, including the Minnesota State fair and the State fair at Fargo, N. D. The company was here last year and every one was pleased and the carnival was a complete success despite the fact that the Interstate fair opened the next week.

It is said by some that the company will show in La Crosse next year under the auspices of the North Side Amusement company, but it is doubtful.

BUSINESS INCREASE IS IN EVIDENCE

Indications are multiplying in all branches of trade that the return to normal business conditions is rapidly approaching. Railroad managers especially report a decided improvement and sharp demand for cars for transportation of all classes of freight, with the possible exception of steel and iron. A prominent railway official said while this branch of business continued far below normal, it no doubt largely resulted from introduced by the indispensable Mr. Burns. Abe Liverman is manager of the Home Life Insurance company, and Bide is a wholesale stationer. Both have prospered, but neither success nor the delights of Denver could make them forgetful of La Crosse, or of Barney Strauss, or the days when Bide was a messenger boy, and they played marbles and hockey with their pals of three decades back. Abe told how he and Artie Esperson had decided to shake up the city on "The Fourth" with a bottle of powder, how the fuse balked, and Artie blew it, after which the big noise came off and Mr. Esperson was blown some himself. The Livermans asked especially after Hon. W. R. Finch, Abe's associations with whom he remembered with pleasure.

Pomeroy's Editor.
In the palmy days of Brick Pomeroy in La Crosse, there presided in the chair of "News Editor" a young man by the name of J. H. S. Keller, and it was an interesting turn of affairs that brought me face to face with this gentleman in the Brown Palace. Mr. Keller is now proprietor and publisher of the Springfield (Mo.) Leader, and has prospered in life. He recalled with keen interest his far from colorless association with the copperhead publisher who made La Crosse famous in war times, and took me for a trolley ride to view the old house which Pomeroy built here during the days when he was prosecuting his far famed scheme to tunnel under the Rockies, the ores extracted to pay expenses and dividends, and the final use of the tunnel to be a passageway for a transcontinental railway. Mr. Keller told of a paper covered book scheme which he and Pomeroy had launched in New York, in which they placed in the market a great library of popular priced books, many of which they wrote and of more of which they assumed authorship. The red-ink copperhead paper they published in New York, as a sensational "copy" as in color, acquired a circulation of over two hundred thousand, figures that seemed fabulous at that time. Mr. Keller had had a new career, having in his time been associated with the publication of the following papers:

La Crosse Democrat, New York Democrat, Chicago Democrat, Pomeroy's Great West, Kansas City Times, New York Commercial Advertiser, Boston Traveler, Denver Times, Minneapolis Times, Binghamton (N. Y.) Press, Hartford (Conn.) Post, Springfield, (Fo.) Leader.

La Crosse Men Prosper.
Bert Cowan, an old La Crosse boy, is general chief engineer of the Colorado and Southern railway. He is an alert and successful business man who has grown into a position of trust and prominence here.

Thomas Corcoran, a retired resident of Denver, is a fine old Irishman of the type whose "Blarney" comes from the heart. He will be remembered in La Crosse thirty years ago, and left when his son Joe was a "youngster." Joe now holds a responsible position in the money order department of the postoffice, where he made himself indispensable last week identifying Wisconsin people with money orders to cash.

The Liverman Boys.
"Say, did the powder marks ever come out of dear old Artie Esperson's neck?"

That is the first thing Abe Liverman asked me, and Bide Liverman wanted to know, too. They asked about Fred Hankerson and other "boys" of their own palmy boyhood days in La Crosse. Fine fellows, in-the fact that the railway companies themselves were not buying material. This state of affairs, however, he added could not possibly continue much longer, the railroads would shortly be compelled to go into the market and when they did so the demand would be sudden as well as heavy.

Grand Chief Engineer Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers said his reports showed a decided business improvement on railroads throughout the country. The repair shop forces had been put on full time in practically all railroads, both east and west, and many foreigners who have been idle are now returning to work. Mr. Stone declared the business outlook to be exceedingly promising. Reports indicate numerous industrial plants which have been closed down are resuming operations, while others working with short forces are putting on additional help.

BIG BOAT GOES UP BLACK RIVER

The government steamer David Tipton went up Black River this morning. The boat was just able to get through the draw and is the largest boat that has ever been through the bridge or that has steamed up the river since the olden days when the river was used for traffic a great deal more than is at present and the lumbering industry was in its prime. Davidson's boat yard was located on the North side and the bank was lined with boats all the time. The boat will probably do some work in clearing the channel and look over the work done by the Henry Bosse some time ago.

We Pay One Ad-Writer $1,000 Per Week

Mr. Claude C. Hopkins is now permanently at the head of our copy department. His salary is $1,000 per week.

No fact, perhaps, can better show how far we go to bring results to our clients.

Mr. Hopkins commands the highest salary ever paid in advertising, because he brings the best results.

He has made more money for advertisers, in more different lines, than any other man has done.

For twenty years, scores of the greatest successes have been due to his copy and schemes.

His supremacy as a salesman in print, is today undisputed.

Now all of the copy which we prepare for our clients is under his supervision.

This copy department is the expensive part of our business.

We spend on it what other great agencies spend on soliciting.

It is filled with able men—men with remarkable records.

Men whom we have picked out, in the course of years, by the brilliant results we have seen them accomplish.

And we want more of them.

No concern will pay more for men of proved ability—men whose records show exceptional results.

Yet this department is not an expense—neither to us nor our clients.

We handle advertising on the usual agent's commission.

And that commission is paid to us largely by the newspapers and magazines—not by the advertiser.

With many small accounts, with great possibilities, we spend ten times our commission in proving them out.

Our profit comes through making the advertising so profitable that it expands.

Thus our costly copy department more than pays its way.

It multiplies advertising by making it profitable. It develops the small advertiser into the large one.

It is the cheapest way that we know to get business.

Our Advisory Board

Our Advisory Board consists of sixteen men, all masters of advertising.

Mr. Hopkins is at the head of it.

Before this Board comes every important problem submitted to us by present or possible clients.

Here we decide what is possible and what is impossible, and advise those who consult us accordingly.

That service is free to all.

And here these sixteen men—all able, all with vast experience—plan our campaigns in conference.

Selling plans, mediums, methods and copy are submitted to full discussion.

In advertising, experience counts for more than ability.

No man, dealing with one line, can grasp the fringe of advertising possibilities.

These sixteen men live in a vortex of advertising.

We handle more advertising, of more different kinds, than any concern in the world.

We conduct more test campaigns, try more schemes, learn more experiences than ever existed in advertising outside of this agency.

And the results are all tabulated.

Thus we know what pays. Thus we avoid mistakes. Thus we bring to each new problem the results of all our experience.

Let Us Prove Our Powers

We seek opportunities rather than appropriations.

We seek the new advertiser with the suitable article which he wants to prove out. An article with possibilities.

We shall not ask you what you expect to spend.

Our plan will be to take up a few mediums, or a few towns, and let the results decide your expenditure.

If we can show you that $1,000 spent brings back $2,000, you will naturally spend all the thousands you can.

Then advertising ceases to be speculation.

There are thousands of new lines which ought to be advertised. We ask a chance to discuss them.

We also seek old advertisers who are already successful.

Advertisers who wish to measure the full of their possibilities.

Advertisers who realize what it may mean to bring a new view-point to bear on their problems.

We take up such advertising, when desired, without disturbing present relations.

Let us have a few towns, or a few mediums, while you continue your present work in the balance.

Then let the results in our field decide who gets the advertising.

Such a proposition should be irresistible to the wise business man.

Even though we fail, our brilliant men will give you some new ideas.

If we succeed, we may open up for you—as we have for hundreds—boundless possibilities.

We do succeed, almost invariably, because we don't undertake the impossible.

Your risk is almost nothing.

Please cut out this coupon—now while you think of it. Send it to get our book "Safe Advertising"—a brilliant example of our advertising powers.

Then form your own judgment of what we can do.

A Reminder

To send to Lord & Thomas, Chicago, for their book, "Safe Advertising."

ed him. But the representatives of "the interests," the men who nominated Alton B. Parker, and whose associates at the republican convention supported "Joe" Cannon and "Rollieking" Charley Fairbanks, were for some man who could be "handled." Tammany came into the fold only when it was apparent the fold was to enclose the band wagon. Public sentiment elected Bryan, and his foes are the foes of civic righteousness who are also the foes of Robert M. La Follette and Theodore Roosevelt.

The lines are drawn, now. It is Taft and his platform against Bryan and his platform. I have no purpose to draw conclusions for anyone, but rather suggest the motto of W. H. Hutton, senatorial candidate in Wisconsin, upon whose stationery there has long been published this thought:

"Learn the facts about men and measure and then judge for yourself."

Denver Hospitality

The hospitality of Denver would be poorly requited did not every newspaper man who attended this convention pay tribute to the generosity of this commonwealth. Muir is Denver, a mile high and as lofty minded as in physical altitude. Chicago accepted the republican convention on a platter and forgot it before the votes were counted; Denver sought a coveted honor, and did herself proud in "making good" to her SPEND SUNDAY ON RIVER.—Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Higbee entertained a few friends at a river trip on their boat Sunday. A pleasant day was spent, the party going as far as Dresbach. The party was made up of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Higbee, Dr. and Mrs. Ogle and children of South Dakota, who are the guests of Dr. Gunderson, Odin J. Oyen and family and O. R. Skaar and family.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT.—A musical and literary entertainment will be held at the Westminster Presbyterian church tonight. The topic will be "Redfield's Speech."

AN AUTOMOBILE TRIP.—Yesterday afternoon Mrs. H. L. Coleman took a party out for the afternoon in her car. They went up on St. Joseph's Ridge and returned by the way of West Salem. In the party were Mrs. G. C. Hixon, Mrs. J. W. Skinner, Mrs. E. O. Edwards and the Misses Mary Crosby and Grace Edwards.

BOB WHITE COTTAGE.—Yesterday afternoon Mrs. William Doerflinger entertained a party of friends at a picnic at her delightful summer home, the "Bob White" cottage. Men, women and children, all told, made a party of seventeen.

The children amused themselves wading in the lake and rowing in a small boat, while the older people sat around in hammocks on the screened veranda listening to the music of a "Victor." At 6 o'clock a delicious supper of many courses was served in the screened dining room.

It is a most charming place at which to entertain one's friends and fortunate is the friend who gets a "bid" to this delightful spot. Those of the party were Mesdames Elmore of Sioux Falls, C. Bayer, Alfred Lagenbach, Carl Lagenbach, E. A. Gatterdam, F. J. Toland, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Withee, Miss Helen Snow of Sioux Falls, Miss Viola Doerflinger, Miss Alice Wheeler, Messrs. Leigh and Ralph Toland, Eugene Gatterdam, Hewett Toland and Paul Gatterdam, and the hostess Mrs. Doerflinger.

MRS. NOBLE ENTERTAINS A PARTY AT BRIDGE.—Mrs. Charles W. Noble entertained three tables at bridge yesterday in her new home on Sixteenth street. Mrs. Martin of Milwaukee and Mrs. Karner of Spokane were the guests of honor. The prize was taken by Mrs. Martin.

TEMPERANCE PICNIC.—The annual picnic of the W. C. T. Unions of the city will be held at Myrick park Wednesday, July 15. Friends of the unions are cordially invited to attend.

SOCIAL BRIEFS.—Mrs. George Hixon who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. G. C. Hixon, returned home to Chicago yesterday. The Miss Elizabeth Shirley, the young lady mentioned in last evening's Tribune, who was a member of the Louisville, Ky., party which met with a serious automobile accident returning from a trip to the Mammoth Cave, is a niece of Mrs. Hixon, and from reports was quite seriously injured.

Mrs. Fred M. Hanchet who is at the Lutheran hospital, is improving and has seen a few of her friends.

Miss Harriet Jefferson of the Park store millinery department is at the La Crosse hospital.

Mrs. Barnes and mother and Mrs. Seeley Perry of Rockford, Ill., made the trip in their auto car. Mrs. Seeley is the guest of Mrs. S. W. Anderson during their stay in the city. Mrs. Barnes and mother are guests of Mrs. J. M. Hixon.

Rev. and Mrs. Ten Broeck and daughter left today for their home at Faribault, after spending a month in the city with their old friends.

Mrs. Louise Withee is visiting friends in Clark county.

Miss Hilda Flueck, a former La Crosse girl but now residing at Seattle, passed through the city yesterday enroute for New York, from where she will sail July 16 for Naples. Miss Flueck left here seven years ago, going with her parents to Denver, where she spent a couple of years. For the past five years she has been a teacher in Seattle, where she met with such signal success that she was delegated as the representative of five hundred teachers to go abroad and investigate the school system of Germany and Great Britain. She was met at the station here by a number of her old friends, several of whom accompanied her as far as Sparta. Upon her return she will stop here and visit among friends.

GREEN TAG SALE SPECIALS

Our great semi-annual Green Tag Sales grows in interest and popularity more and more each season. The low prices made on the choicest merchandise make people irresistible. This was demonstrated by Saturday's and Monday's merchandising. Despite of the intense hot weather our store was at times thronged to its very limit. MAY BE ABLE TO OPEN BATH SOON

Because of the intense heat of the last few days local bathers have become anxious about the opening of the public bath. Commissioner A. J. Roberge of the board of public works, said yesterday that if the water continues to fall as it has been doing for the last few days the bath house will open Saturday.

LOVER STAGE OF WATER EXPECTED

The river is rapidly falling and from the present indications it will continue to fall until it reaches a near normal stage. Today it dropped one-tenth in two hours and at the last investigation was still continuing to fall. River men are of the opinion that it will continue to fallless more rain storms as heavy as he past few come. If the water goes down four more feet it will be in a ideal condition for fishing, but unl it does drop that much no fisherman be looked for. On the 11th of July the stage of the water was 11.0, on the 12th it was 10.8 and on the 13th it was 10.4, showing a decrease of nearly four tenths per day.

DIFFERENT NOW Athlete Finds Better Training Food.

It was formerly the belief that to become strong, athletes must eat plenty of meat.

This is all out of date now, and many trainers feed athletes on the well-known food, Grape-Nuts, made of wheat and barley, and cut the meat down to a small portion, once a day.

"Three years ago," writes a Michigan man, "Having become interested in athletics, I found I would have to stop eating pastry and some other kinds of food."

"I got some Grape-Nuts and was soon eating the food at every meal, for I found that when on the track, I felt more lively and active."

"Later, I began also to drink Postum in place of coffee and the way I gained muscle and strength on this diet was certainly great. On the day of a field meet in June I weighed 124 lbs. On the opening of the football season in Sept., I weighed 140, I attribute my fine condition and good work to the discontinuation of improper food and coffee, and the using of Grape-Nuts and Postum, my principal diet during training season being Grape-Nuts."

"Before I used Grape-Nuts I never felt right in the morning—always kind of 'out of sorts' with my stomach. But now when I rise I feel good, and after a breakfast largely of Grape-Nuts, with cream, and a cup of Postum, I feel like a new man."

"There's a Reason."

MISSOURI BROKER STABBED IN OFFICE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 14.—F. L. Mackay, the manager of the Western Commission company, a brokerage firm, was stabbed and killed by James H. Chandler, an abstractor, after a quarrel in Mackay's office.

Chandler was arrested immediately after the killing and taken to police headquarters, where he made a statement to Walter Whitsett, captain of police, and Charles Ryan, inspector of detectives.

In his statement to the police Chandler said that Mackay had struck and also kicked him. The quarrel began, Chandler says, when he went to Mackay's office to talk about the commission company's financial affairs.

Stanley Dinford, a painter, who was working just outside of the office, said:

"Chandler rushed out of the office and shoved Mackay. Mackay said: 'If you want any more I'll give it to you.' Chandler then pulled a knife from his pocket, and followed Mackay into the office."

KNIFE EATER EATS KNIFE IN REALITY

HAZELTON, Pa., July 14.—Chas. Henry, 25 years old, of West Hazelton, swallowed a table knife ten inches long with a six inch blade an inch wide and a wooden handle four inches long. He submitted to an operation for its removal, and his condition is serious. Henry was entertaining friends at knife eating when the cutlery accidentally slipped down. Heretofore Henry had been successful in emulating professional sword and knife eaters.

DOG DIES TO SAVE MASTER

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., July 14.—Apparently scenting danger for George Bradbury, aged 17, should he secure a firmer grip on a live electric wire, a bulldog made a leap at the wire and tore it from the hands of the senseless boy. The dog was killed instantly, but his master escaped with a severe shock. Bradbury started to push the wire aside with his hand when the dog made the leap to save his life. Bradbury was unconscious five minutes.

PRESIDENT'S ANNOYER FLEES.

FARMINGTON, Mo., July 14.—Mrs. Minor Morris, who was ejected from the White house grounds about eighteen months ago, has escaped from the Missouri hospital for the insane here.

"Look officer!" shouted the excited citizen. "That big department store is afire." "What makes you think so?" asked the officer calmly. "Why, don't you see all those women shoppers coming down the fire escapes?" "Oh, yes; but that is not the sign of fire. You see, they can't get through the revolving doors with those big hats."—Exchange.

WANTED TO START A "OSCO" SHOW

CALEDONIA, Minn., July 14.—(Special.)—John Hackett of Money Creek was examined as to his sanity before Judge Budahl in the probate court here. Hackett has for the past couple of months been gathering garter and other snakes with the avowed intention of starting on the road with a "Bosco" show with himself playing the title role. He has also been "ugly" and on the morning of the Fourth engaged in a free-for-all fight with the family, knocking down his aged father and his sister and inflicting serious wounds on a neighbor, Mr. Nelson, who came to their assistance. Mr. Hackett was adjudged insane and was taken to the Rochester asylum by Sheriff Blehrud.

WANT SWIMMING CONTESTS AT BATH

PATRONS OF PLACE MAY A RANGE PRIZES

WATER POLO IS ADVOCATED

City Expects to Hold Official Opening Next Saturday if Water Continues to Recede as at Present

Arrangements are being made by the officers in charge of the public bath to open the baths officially next Saturday. The late drop in the river and steady decline in the stage of the water has caused considerable number of inquiries.

About all the arrangements are completed and if the river recedes sufficiently by that time the bathers will have the opportunity to enjoy the baths.

There has been considerable talk among some of the swimmers who frequent the public baths of having a tournament or test trial at the baths during the season. If the present plans of some of the swimmers mature several races will be taken up and prizes arranged for the results.

There is also considerable talk of inaugurating water polo at the bath house this season. In other cities it has become very popular and several of the local swimmers are looking forward to a successful season as far as aquatic sports are concerned.

WORK OF THIRD UP TO STANDARD

Wednesday, Governor's day. A. E. Roper, W. H. Hahn and C. Clark, two of them former La Crosse boys, are in camp with the Tenth battalion.

Make Good Scores.
The Third tied the First regiment's high fixed distance score at the first three ranges, had higher men on high twelve, broke the collective fire mark of Company E, Milwaukee, by forty points, and beat the high officer of the First in pistol fire. Capt. Burton, who won the last named contest with the remarkable score of 402 out of a possible 450, has already won the King revolver, so that Lieut. Ahnert of Milwaukee is still high for the prize this year.

Good Condition.
The weather was good for shooting with the exception of an extremely bright light which blurred the sights. There was no wind and no clouds until the last of the firing at 50 yards. Private Benhken, who leads the high twelve, headed the Camp Perry team last year.

Twelve High Scores.
The following are the high twelve scores made today:

	Co. 200	300	500	T'ls.
Pri. Behnken..	D 43	46	45	134
Sergt. Schultz	F 41	41	47	103
Pri. Hanson..	A 41	42	44	127
Lieut. Fowler	M 38	43	45	126
Sgt. Wiklund	K 41	42	43	126
Pri. Lombard	K 42	41	43	126
Sergt. Ensch..	D 40	44	42	126
Art. Starrett	A 42	41	42	125
Cor. Dietze..	M 39	44	42	125
Pri. Butterld.	M 42	42	41	125
Cor. Parker..	A 40	40	44	124
Sgt. Warlum..	A 40	41	43	124

Burton Leads Pistol.
The result of the pistol competition, expert course, was: Capt. Burton, 402; Lieut. Campman, 375; Lieut. Upton, 368; Lieut. Winters, 368; Lieut. Ryan, 351; Lieut. Abraham, 351; Maj. Turner, 350; Lieut. Clements, 348; Lieut. Remington, 344; Lieut. Hale, 342.

Tenth Battalion.
Those leading the tenth separate battalion, sharpshooters course, are Lieut. Brown, 156; Maj. Lynch, 152; Capt. Boertz, 150.

The scores of the Tenth at expert shooting were not tabulated tonight, out none of them are in the running for the prize.

In the fixed distance firing there were about thirty made 120 or better.

Uses Megaphone.
Col. McCoy, inspector of small arms practice, has stolen a march on Drum Major Charles Wright of the First regiment. The latter intends to use a megaphone in connection with a bugle to enable the calls being heard at a distance. Yesterday morning Col. McCoy, mounted, appeared on the range with a megaphone slung over his shoulder so that he could be heard giving orders along the firing line.

Eat in Open.
Last year there was considerable grumbling throughout the guard over the lack of mess tents. This year they are furnished in the form of amusement tents, fitted with tables exactly like those used in the old mess tents with long seats on either side. A careful observation of both the First and Third regiments show that three-quarters of the men prefer to eat in the open, sitting on the ground in the shade in true soldier style when in the field.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO COUNTY COURT.

State of Wisconsin, County Court, La Crosse County.—ss. In Probate. Notice is hereby given that at a special term of the County Court, to be held in and for said County, at the Court House, in the City of La Crosse, in said County, on the first Tuesday, being the 4th day of August, A. Hundred Thousand People Cheer Man Who Seems to Have Solved Aerial Navigation

BERLIN, July 14.—Count Zeppelin, with 15 guests aboard his giant airship, ascended from Friedrichshaven today for a 24 hour aerial cruise, the crucial test of his numerous aeronautic ventures.

A crowd of a hundred thousand gave him a frenzied ovation as he took his place in the car.

Zeppelin hopes to prove that he can travel a thousand miles in 24 hours with the ship under perfect control. In the last test he remained in the air fourteen hours.

The ship weighs four tons, and has a lifting capacity of two tons. The motive power is supplied by two Daimler motor engines, each 83 horse power.

general sentiment of the committee as expressed on the train coming down was that after being notified, Bryan should rest until Labor day, when he speaks at Chicago. After that if the advice of the committee is followed, he will make a "whirlwind" tour of the doubtful states, especially Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Ohio, New York, New Jersey and Rhode Island.

When the committee arrived they were greeted by the two candidates at the top of the porch. Bryan caused a laugh by asking how many were in the party, explaining his dining room holds but forty-six, and that was all he could accommodate at luncheon. "But I'm told the White house dining room will be larger, after the fourth of next March, possibly."

STAY OF EXECUTION FOR FOUR MONTHS

The case of Hiram Goddard vs. the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, was given a special hearing today before Judge Fruit and a special verdict rendered. Judge Fruit gave a stay of execution for four months.

An Open Letter to Voters and Voters' Wives:

Dear Sir and Madam:
I am a candidate for your favor, for the position of leading jeweler of this good city of La Crosse. I submit my platform for your consideration:
I am opposed to "ways that are dark" in business and favor open and honest methods with the public. I represent values as they actually are, and "call a spade a spade" when I describe the different qualities of goods.
I am in favor of selling goods at such a profit only over cost as will enable me to continue business successfully, looking to my prosperity in the large volume of business which will result from selling at modest profits.
I am in favor of taking trouble to please customers by returning their repair work promptly, requiring my clerks to be polite and attentive and keeping my store clean, bright and attractive.
I respectfully solicit your vote and influence — and a visit to my store.

Water Wagon Conveys "Dry" Delegates to Hotels and Mule Represents "Half-dry" Missouri

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 14.—It was still anybody's fight today for the presidential nomination by the prohibition party.

The water wagon arranged for by the local committee, started early on its mission of escorting the delegations from the depots to the hotels. The wagon was a regulation city sprinkler, with the wheels and gearing buried in bunting and drawn by four white horses, bearing the names of the eight prohibition states. A mule tied behind the wagon was placarded "Missouri, Two-thirds Dry."

Definite announcement by Seaborn Wright of Georgia, that he would not accept the nomination was received with keen disappointment, but was mighty good news to the other aspirants who want the nomination and regarded Wright as the greatest obstacle.

NEW YORK "COP" IS OLYMPIC STAR

pard, and Hallows, of England, was third.

Tandem Bicycle Race.

The 2,000 meter (1 1/4 mile) tandem bicycle race went as follows: First heat, Brooks and Isaacs, United Kingdom; second heat, Hamlin and Johnson, United Kingdom; third heat, Goetze and Goetze, Germany; fourth heat, Paton and Coeckelberg, Belgium. Best time, 2:25. Hanson, of Sweden, took the fifth heat. Time, 34:53 3/5.

McGrath, the New York policeman, won the hammer throw of his section by 167 feet 11 inches. Flanagan, his "cop" mate, sent the hammer 156 feet 2 1/2 inches. Flanagan made good in the finals with 170 feet 4 1/2 inches, not only breaking the Olympic record, but also the professional amateur records of Great Britain. McGrath was second with 167 feet 11 inches; Walsh was third, with 159 feet 11 1/2 inches.

Weintz, of the United States team, won the third heat in the 20 kilometer bicycle race; time, 33:39 4/5. Jones, of England, won the fourth heat in 32:39. C. Cameron, of the American team, was second in this heat.

England Takes Walk.

England took the first two places in the final of the 3,500 meter walk with Policeman Larnier first, Webb, second, and Kerr, an Australian, third. Larnier won by ten yards; time, 14:56.

In the sixth heat of the 20 kilometer bicycle race Denny, of England, was first; time, 33:40 3/4.

American Wins Final Heat.

In the 600 meter bicycle race C. Cameron is the only American to race in the final heat.

In the continuation of the 400 meter swim, three heats of which were swam yesterday, Beaurepaire, of Australia, took the fourth heat; Pradmilov, of England, the fifth; Taylor, of England, sixth; Oschiff, of Austria, seventh, and Hagos, of Hungary, eighth.

G. W. Gledzik, an American, won the first heat of the fancy diving contest, and Zarno, of Germany, second.

Kingsbury, of England, won the final 20 kilometer bicycle race, with Jones, of England, second, and Werbruck, of Belgium, third. Time, 34:13 2/5.

In the trial heats of the three-mile team event Wilson, of England, won the first heat in 16:06 1/2; Grangeman, of France, the second heat in 14:53. Grangeman was disqualified, however, and the heat was given to the Americans.

PITCHER PRIMLEY COMES TONIGHT

Pitcher Primley, who has been signed by President Elliott, is expected to report in La Crosse this evening. He was secured from Sioux Falls, S. D., and has had considerable experience in the Western league and comes well recommended. He will arrive tonight and will probably be sent to the team within a few days.

"Dutch" Vogt, who opened the season with Fond du Lac and was later sent to Rockford, has been released and was at once taken up by Oshkosh and will probably don a suit in the first game today.

Pitcher Blehrud, who was released by Rockford after they had worked him about two out of every three games, has been signed by the South Bend team.

INSURANCE CASE IS HEARD TODAY

The case of Gustavus Wall who was formerly marshal of Onalaska, vs. the Modern Woodmen of America was up this morning. It involves an insurance policy. The case is one of considerable importance involving several thousand dollars. The trial will be continued tomorrow morning.

EXCURSIONISTS ARE ROYALLY GREETED

they marched up the street. At Minneska the time was well spent and no little amount of advertising of the saengerfest was circulated. With cards, tags and other features they adorned the city and got the promise of every person there to attend the fest in La Crosse next week. One of the representatives of a wholesale house, who is on board, tied one of the tags to a poor canine's tail and before the dog was able to extricate himself the party was in a fit of merriment.

Fountain City was the next stop. The Germans on board headed by C. L. Michel, volunteered to escort the party through the village. A most hearty welcome was extended by William Stall, the mayor, and F. Bohri, Paul and other prominent business men. A delay was caused the farewell ceremonies and Alma, another live one, was reached a little late. Alma proved to be a glorious host and a good time was had in the little river town. On leaving, the Saengerfest delegates at Alma marched down to the levee and the boat was leaving sang "How Can I Bear to Leave Thee." But the boat finally got under way again after a solemn promise had been made that they would meet again in La Crosse during the Saengerfest.

Rousing Welcome.

Wabasha eclipsed all previous places along the river when it came to welcome. With a full brass band headed by Mayor E. Smith the excursionists were met at the levee. After a brief address of welcome by his honor, the parade was formed and the party marched to the Hofmann house, where they were turned over to Landlord F. F. Hofmann. Landlord Hofmann proved to be a good host and in a short time another parade had been formed and headed by the band the army of Boosters lined up in single file and marched one side of the street and down the other. All Wabasha was out to welcome the visitors. Everything possible was done by the residents of the town to make the trip a success and it ended with a band concert on board the boat. It was voted unanimously Wabasha was "Getting Better All the Time."

After a rest, which by the way was a poor rest for a majority on board, the trip was resumed and Pepin was reached. At Pepin it was a repetition of the former cities' entertainment, and after breaking away, a slight rest was taken by all on board in preparation for Lake City.

A dispatch received from Lake City states that the mayor sent regards to Secretary Calvert, who has charge of the boat, and with the regards was a bottle. While at Lake City one of the greatest centers of interest was the art gallery, where the merchants were attracted and later "shot."

Stockholm was next on the list and here the party was turned over to O. Sorensen, who volunteered to escort them through the place.

GROCERS REPORT PICNIC TONIGHT

The regular monthly meeting of the Grocers' association will be held this evening when the plans for the annual picnic will be taken up and the report of the committees read. Other minor business will be taken up.

S.S.S. A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is caused by an excess of uric acid in the blood, which is carried through the circulation to all portions of the system. Every muscle, nerve, bone and joint absorbs the acid, pain-producing poison, causing aches, inflammation, stiffness and other well known symptoms of the disease. Permanent relief from the pains and discomfort of Rheumatism cannot be expected from the use of liniments, plasters, and other external treatment which does not reach the blood, where the cause is located. Such measures give temporary relief, but in order to cure Rheumatism the uric acid and inflammatory poison must be expelled from the blood. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it is a perfect blood purifier. It goes down into the circulation, neutralizes the uric acid and drives it from the blood. S. S. S. expels the irritating, inflammatory matter which is causing the pain, swelling and other discomfort, enriches the weak, sour blood, and permanently cures Rheumatism. In all forms of Rheumatism, whether acute or chronic, S. S. S. will be found a safe, vegetable remedy, possessing the properties needed to cure, and at the same time a medicine that builds up the entire system by its fine tonic effects. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

FLEET DAY

AT

OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA

When Admiral Evan's fleet arrived in San Francisco Bay, it is hardly an exaggeration to say that every automobile in that section of the country was offered for the use of the officers. The committee in charge of the celebration decided to use exclusively, because "no other make can accommodate its speed to the pace of a street parade without discomfort to the passengers and without overheating, and no other make is so free from the liability of tire trouble or delays from mechanical causes." The committee might also have been influenced by the patriotic motive that the White alone is distinctively American and is not a copy of any foreign article.

WISCONSIN NEWSNEW INSURANCE CO. IN MILWAUKEE

TO REAP BENEFITS OF WITHDRAWALS OF OTHERS

A MILLION DOLLAR FIRM

"Old Line Company" Will Seek to Get $6,000,000 of Revenues Given Up by Other Companies

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 14.—A million dollar corporation, to be known as the Old Line Life Insurance Company of America, is being organized in Wisconsin, with headquarters in Milwaukee.

Stock is now being sold and the articles of organization are signed and executed by the requisite number of Milwaukee people, but the name of the incorporators have not been made public. Rupert F. Fry, an experienced insurance man, is the manager for the organizers. It is said that the project has been approved by the state insurance department. A local trust company will act as trustee to receive and hold funds until the company can do business under the law.

MYSTERY SHROUDS FOND DU LAC FIRE

FOND DU LAC, Wis., July 14.—Fire of mysterious origin in the Fair store on South Main street early yesterday caused a loss estimated at $22,000, covered by insurance. Most of the damage was caused by smoke and water.

I. Rosenblatt, manager of the store, was in the building fifteen minutes before the fire started, and says that when he left there were no signs of fire. He intends to reopen the store as soon as the loss can be adjusted. Other firms which lost by smoke and water are M. K. Fitzsimmons & Sons, $1,500; A. G. Dana, $100. The loss on the Fair store building is $1,500.

When a man has managed to save a little money, people think he is childish and don't know how to take care of it.

HOME-COMINGS ARE POPULAR IN STATE

THREE MORE ARE ARRANGED IN BADGER CITIES

BLACK RIVER FALLS JULY 21

Manitowoc Has One Framed Up for August and Portage Will Invite Former Residents in Sept.

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis., July 14.—The city's home coming will open on July 21 and for four days former residents of this place will be entertained. A large number are expected to return for the event. Mayor J. J. McGillicuddy will deliver the address of welcome. Col. J. A. Watrous of Whitewater will make the response. Most of the meetings will be held in Spring Brook park. Thursday, July 24, will be old soldiers' day, when a large parade will be held.

Portage Sept. 1 to 4
PORTAGE, Wis., July 14.—Portage will have a home coming in conjunction with the Columbia county fair to be held September 1 to 4. Moyer Downey has been chosen chairman and City Clerk F. F. Goss, secretary. These officials and a city committee will act with a committee of the county fair association in arranging the event. Personal letters will be mailed to every person who once lived here and whose address is known.

Manitowoc, Aug. 25 to 28
MANITOWOC, Wis., July 14.—A home coming will be held in connection with the county fair August 25 to 28. Invitations are being sent out to former residents of Manitowoc in all parts of the country.

FACTORY EMPLOYEE RESCUES A GIRL

JEFFERSON, Wis., July 14.—Mary Green, aged 10, daughter of Philip Green, was saved from drowning by the presence of mind of Checky Elden, a factory employee. The little girl fell from a boat into the swift waters of Rock river just beneath the mill dam. She was just sinking for the third time when young Elden dove into the stream with all of his clothes on and rescued the girl. Adams Fuchs, a retail furniture dealer of this city, narrowly escaped death in a runaway accident yesterday. Mr. Fuchs' horse became unmanageable and threw him from the buggy, severely injuring him.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

WHITEWATER — Department Commander Coe has announced the official route for the Wisconsin contingent as follows: The Milwaukee road for concentrating in Milwaukee Monday, Aug. 31, where at 9 o'clock at night one of the Crosby Transportation company's steamers will be taken for Grand Haven. The party will take a special train on the Grand Trunk for Toledo, reaching there soon after noon. The fare from Milwaukee to Toledo and return will be $9.

DELAVER—The Aram Memorial Library has been formally turned over to the city by the trustees of the James A. Aram estate. It represents an expenditure of close on to $23,000 and has an endowment fund of $5,000.

KAUKAUNA — The Outagamie County Sunday School association will hold three district institutes this week, the first at Medina, July 14, the second at Sugar Bush, July 15, and the third at Shiocton, July 16.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A postoffice has been established at Exeland, Sawyer county, Wis., with Lydia Bowman postmaster. The office at Keyser has been discontinued, mail now going to Morrisonville.

EAU CLAIRE—Eugene Mooney, who accepted a position as lineman for a local traction company, was knocked from a pole by contact with a live wire and died an hour later in an hospital.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—H. E. Patten of Dane county, Wis., has been appointed soil chemist in the agriculture department, with a salary of $2,000 a year.

WAUSAU—A 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bruchler was cooked alive in a warhtub full of hot water and suffered for two days before death.

ANTIGO.—Two little children of August Schmidt of the town of Neva, aged 3 years and 18 months respectively, ate parais green while the parents were away from home, and are in a critical condition.

ANTIGO.—The local water plant is being surveyed by engineers representing the state rate commission.

BELOIT.—New heating systems at a cost of $8,500 will be installed in the Joyce and the Hackett schools.

CUMBERLAND.—In a runaway accident caused by a passing motor cycle, Mrs. E. V. Benjamin, jumping out of the rig, sustained severe injuries.

EAU CLAIRE.—While watching electricians at work Miss Julia McKenna came too near a blow torch, and her dress ignited. The flame was put out by Ernie Johnson before the girl was injured.

FOND DU LAC.—Fire early this morning in the Fair store on Main street, caused great damage to the $26,000 stock of dry goods. The building was only slightly damaged.

GREEN BAY.—The old Adams house, built in 1855, may be replaced by a modern hotel, plans for which have already been prepared.

Ask the Folks Next Door

Ask your next-door neighbor what she thinks of Van Camp's Pork and Beans. Then do just as she advises about using them yourself.

We refer our case to anyone who ever used Van Camp's.

Ask any man or woman, boy or girl who knows them. Ask how Van Camp's compare with home-baked beans—compare with other brands.

There are millions of people who know this, and some of them live next door. Ask and they'll tell you why Van Camp's command such an enormous sale.

Or learn for yourself—learn from a ten-cent can. See if you can go back to home-baked beans after once trying Van Camp's.

Those not yet using Van Camp's Beans simply don't know what they miss.

Perhaps they are clinging to home-baked beans—mushy and broken. Beans that are crisped on the top and half-baked in the middle.

Perhaps they are eating very few beans, because such beans are not appealing. Or, perhaps they realize that such beans don't digest. That's why they ferment and form gas.

Those people are losing one of the best foods in the world—and one of the cheapest—simply because they don't know how good baked beans can be.

One can of Van Camp's will serve to alter their whole idea of baked beans.

They will find that beans can be baked until they are mealy, yet remain nutty because they are whole.

They will find that the tomato sauce baked into the beans gives a new and delicious blend.

And they will find that beans, when rightly baked, are easy to digest. Then beans become—as they should be—almost a daily dish.

These are some of the differences:

We bake in live steam—you bake in dry heat. We bake the beans until they are mealy without crisping or breaking them. You cannot do this.

Our ovens are heated to 245 degrees. Then we bake in small parcels, so that the heat goes through. Thus the atoms are separated so the digestive juices can get to them.

Scarcely half so much heat can get to the center of your baking dish. The result is, a heavy food, hard to digest.

Not a home in the world has the facilities to bake beans as we bake ours. Why bother to try it? Why waste the time and the fuel?

Please serve Van Camp's tomorrow. See what it means to you and yours to have such meals ready-cooked.

Van Camp's

BAKED WITH TOMATO SAUCE

PORK AND BEANS

Now is the time to know Van Camp's. You are looking for ready-cooked dishes—this is the queen of them all. So please ask some user, or try them yourself. You are missing too much—don't wait another day.

It is not even economical to bake your beans at home. Economy lies in serving beans so good that your people will want them often.

Beans are 84% nutriment. Their food value exceeds the food value of meat. Yet they cost but a fraction as much.

Van Camp's will save their whole cost, three times over, in the cutting down of your meat bills.

For just the same reason, Van Camp's are far cheaper than ready-baked beans that cost less.

We buy only the choicest of Michigan beans, and have them picked over by hand. We use only the whitest, the plump, the fullest-grown. All others are discarded.

The result is, we could buy several bushels of some beans for the price of one bushel of ours.

Then we use only vine-ripened tomatoes to make our tomato sauce. And we use the whole tomato.

Some tomato sauce is made from tomatoes picked green, or of scraps from a canning factory. We could buy such sauce for exactly one-fifth what we spend to make ours.

But it is our tomato sauce that gives to our beans that delicious, sparkling zest. Our beans would not be half so good without it.

The best beans are cheap enough. And the economical beans are the beans that your people like best.

The more beans that you can serve at your table, the less you need serve of foods that cost more.

Please prove this today. Tell your grocer now to send one can. Then, if you agree with what we have told you, order a dozen cans next. For it is very pleasant to have meals in the house—meals that you don't need to cook.

McFARLAND-WELSH READY FOR ARTICLES

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—Third meetings between boxers seems to be becoming the fashion out west. Word was received from Packie McFarland agreeing to take on Freddie Welsh for the third time Labor day. It is presumed from this that McFarland failed to make any arrangements whereby he could get on a meeting with Gans or Nelson.

The bout will be held at Jim Jeffries' arena and may go thirty-five rounds. This will be the longest route McFarland has ever attempted. Jeffries himself is much aroused over criticism of his refereeing in the last bout and says he will not officiate at the next meeting.

LEAGUE NOTES

The scheme of transferring Wisconsin league games to Milwaukee has been called off by President Moll. The Milwaukee fans did not exhibit a frantic desire to witness the state leaguers play and the park owners were rattled for 25 per cent game receipts.

The reorganized, rejuvenated, Green Bay biffers, according to a Rockford paper, had a lot of fun in defeating the Reds.

Rockford Republic—"We never imagined what fun we were going to have out of this league. It certainly is great. We run up against a game bunch of fighters and are having a delightful time as though we were in the National league.

The Madison sporting scribe claims that there is no dishonor in losing a ball game by one score. How about the percent column?

It was not until Rockford had worked Blexrud to death that they gave him his "green papers."

TWENTY THOUSAND HIGH MASONSONS ATTEND CONCLAVE

OWN THE TOWN OF ST. PAUL

Seattle and Louisville Strive for Honor of Having the Next Gathering of Order

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 14.—Yesterday was a day of parades and of music in St. Paul and the gaily lighted streets are crowded with thousands of visitors who have come to attend the thirty-fourth annual convocation of the Ancient Arabic order of the Mystic Shrine. At 6 o'clock last evening approximately 15,000 shriners were in the city and trains this morning are expected to swell the total to 25,000.

Osman temple, St. Paul, is holding a ceremonial session at the auditorium, and while the visiting nobles are there, their wives and friends are attending theatre parties or are enjoying steamboat excursions.

The feature of the afternoon was a parade and review at Fort Snelling in which the entire garrison took part.

Thirty-five Arab patrols—twice as many as ever before attended a convocation—will be here. The patrol from Almas temple, Washington, gave an exhibition drill yesterday afternoon at Fort Snelling.

The only two camels owned by a shrine were brought in with Moila temple, St. Joseph, Mo. The Moila patrol has won first prize at the convocations in Washington, Los Angeles, and Kansas City and will compete in the contest to take place here Wednesday.

The first session of the imperial council will take place this morning. Preceding this meeting, ground will be broken in the presence of the visitors for a new masonic temple to be erected at the corner of Smith avenue and Sixth street.

The culminating event of the week will occur tonight when the electrical parade will start from the new capitol and march through streets that are festooned with 25,000 electric lights.

Announcement was made that the cup for the winner of the balloon race, next Saturday afternoon, is offered by C. G. Goodrich, general manager of the Twin City Rapid Transit company. Six balloons have been entered for the race.

The campaign for the convocation of 1909 is already under way. Seattle and Louisville are both candidates for the honor. Des Moines is working to secure the convocation of 1910.

An Economical Vacation
Round trip tickets at figures but slightly in excess of one way fares to a hundred or more resorts in Canada and New England will be placed on sale on various dates after June 1, 1908.

MARSHAL INTERFERES
AND IS SHOT DEAD

FORT DODGE, Iowa, July 14.—Gowrie, a small town twenty miles south of here, was the scene of a murder when Marshal Tom Nicholson was killed instantly by a bullet from a revolver fired by Wilbur Carr, aged 24.

The murder was committed on the street and the murderer is said to have looked at his victim, saying: "Well, I hope I fixed him." He walked unmolested to his home, and was not arrested until twenty minutes later. He was brought to the county jail here.

The shooting was the result of the marshal's interfering in a street brawl.

PANIC IN CHURCH
WHEN FILMS BLAZE

DULUTH, Minn., July 14.—A stampede was created in the Catholic church at Biwabik, where moving pictures of the Passion Play were being given, when some of the celluloid films blazed up in the darkened room.

About a dozen people were injured in the panic, and one woman, Mrs. Joseph Attilik, is so seriously hurt that fears are expressed for her recovery.

FALLS FROM HAY ARE FATAL

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa, July 14.—R. S. Hellhaz, a wealthy and influential councilman of Garrison, Ia., was instantly killed near that place, while helping to unload hay. He fell from the load breaking his neck.

While unloading hay in his barn near Sac City, Alfred Youngren fell from the load and received injuries, which the attending physician declares will prove fatal.

The fall resulted in injuries to the spinal cord, which has left him paralyzed from the waist to his feet.

CRAMPS CLAIM VICTIM

MONTEVIDEO, Minn., July 14.—While bathing in the Chippewa river Saturday afternoon Carl Kelsel, a young man of twenty years, was seized with cramps and was drowned before any one could get to him. His body was recovered.

MURDERER FOUND DEAD IN BUSHES

MAX HOCHWORTH, SLAYER OF MRS. LOOS OF DULUTH

FOUND BY BLOODHOUNDS

His Body is Found in Bushes by the Roadside—Evidently Contemplated Escape as Food Found

DULUTH, Minn., July 14.—The slayer of Mrs. Ada Loos was Max Hochworth of Duluth, and he defeated the hands of justice by turning upon himself the same weapon that he shot her to death with on the lonely pike lake road.

He went into the bushes a short distance from the road and there shot himself through the mouth. The bullet passed through his brain and death must have been instantaneous.

This discovery was not made until yesterday. The police department had thrown out a net that was calculated to catch Hochworth, for he was all the time suspected of the crime, and it was believed that he would make a strong play to escape. It was furthermore believed that he would put up a fight and die before he would submit to capture.

Chief of Police Troyer with a detail of men and a number of bloodhounds, visited the scene of the tragedy. The hounds after a time got the scent of the murderer and quickly led the officers to the dead body.

Hochworth was a skillful card player and has not done much work for several years. He has been in this city and vicinity for a long time and was infatuated with the Loos woman. She had tried of late to discourage him and that was believed to offer the solution as to motive.

UNKNOWN IN RIVER

BRECKENRIDGE, Minn., July 14.—An unidentified man about forty years of age was found in the Red river about three miles below this city. He was dressed as a laborer, had a watch and some money in his clothes. He had evidently been in the water for some time and the features were unrecognizable. As there was nothing found on him to serve to identify him he was buried at the expense of the county. No one is reported missing in this vicinity.

BEATS DOG CHASERS

DEADWOOD, S. D., July 14.—Deadwood's select of the "400" are worrying what to do with their expensive dogs during the spell of hot weather to keep them away from Red creek, which flows directly through the city, and coming from the mills up the gulch, is heavily impregnated with cyanide of potassium.

So far J. C. Griggs, a sheep man, from Wyoming, is the heaviest loser. Two of his expensive sheep dogs are but memories after having quenched their thirst at the red stream.

RED RIVER'S THIRD VICTIM

BRECKENRIDGE, Minn., July 14.—Harry Stull, seventeen years old, was the third victim the Red river has claimed here in two weeks. He was bathing with others and was taken with cramps and sank before help could reach him. The body has not been recovered.

The Farmer's Wife

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures bloatedness, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms are the leading physicians and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice. Have been continually and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

BOY DIVES HEAD
FIRST INTO MUD

DARBY, Pa., July 14.—Harry Murray, aged 9 years, of this borough, narrowly escaped death when he fell head first from the Baltimore and Ohio railroad bridge spanning Cobb's creek. Turning over and over, he landed in a thick bed of mire, which buried him, head first, up to his knees.

Had he struck the ground two feet nearer the shore he would have struck on a rock and broken his neck. Murray was dug out, unconscious, by workmen. It is thought his spine is injured.

FREAK OF STORM
AT PHOENIX TOAY

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 14.—A terrific wind, rain and hail storm swept the town of Tempe, eight miles from here last night. Large hailstones covered the ground while the thermometer registered above 100 degrees. There was considerable destruction to property.

HUMAN TORCH HURT

WATERLOO, Iowa, July 14.—A vaudeville artist, Dr. Cilo, who saturates his clothes with kerosene and slides down a high wire by his teeth while in flames, was badly hurt at the Electric park in sight of a large crowd.

De Cilo usually lands in a canvas net, and the canvas gave way and he strained the ligaments of the neck and shoulders and was burned about the face.

CANOE CAPSIZES; TWO DIE

DULUTH, Minn., July 14.—News reached Duluth from Deer River that Miss Etta Kennedy, daughter of Mrs. Frank Kennedy of 302 East Third street of this city, and Jacob Woodruff of Deer River, were drowned on Ball Club lake. Another man, who was with them in the canoe, saved himself by clinging to the craft for more than twelve hours before he was discovered and rescued.

G. B. Burhans testifies after four years. G. B. Burhans, of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment, and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble." O. T. Erhart.

RECORD YEAR FOR
U. S. SHIPBUILDING

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—The fiscal year ended June 30 has been the record year of American shipbuilding, according to reports to the bureau of navigation, and the center of the industry is on the Great Lakes.

During the year, 1,506 vessels of 588,627 gross tons were built and numbered in the United States, of which 68 steel steamers of 304,379 gross tons were built on the Great Lakes. The largest annual output heretofore was in the year 1885, when 2,024 vessels of 583,450 tons were built. In that year the Great Lakes built only 263 vessels of 45,423 tons.

This year steel vessels built numbered 142 of 417,167 gross tons compared with 360,665 tons built last year. These two are the years of the largest steel construction in the United States.

The tonnage built is entirely for domestic transportation, no vessels exclusively for foreign trade having been built in the United States.

Of the 142 steel vessels, 85 exceeded 1,000 gross tons each, 55 on the Great Lakes, the largest being the William M. Mills, of 7,962 tons, and 30 on the seaboard, the largest being the Columbian of 8,579 tons, built at San Francisco for trade to Hawaii.

Four wooden sailing vessels exceeding 1,000 tons each were built during the year, the largest being the Edward J. Lawrence, of 3,356 gross tons.

Healthy Happy Babies

Mother, you know the summer will be a trying time for your teething baby—a period of anxiety and sleepless nights for you unless you take the precaution to keep baby's system in condition to make teething easy.

Teethina (Teething Powders)

The prescription of Dr. C. J. Moffett, graduate of Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, contains elements recommended by the most advanced medical science to remove the cause of disease and keep the system in condition to make teething easy. For 40 years the standard remedy throughout the South during the trying period of teething, colic, hives, etc., in children.

In nine out of ten cases of cholera infantum that prove fatal from ordinary neglect and subsequent treatment, the timely use of Teethina would have saved the child.

PROGRESS THE BEST RULE

A progressive policy in the long run is the most economical.

For instance, those who have attempted to discredit the Bell system, which has made the telephone an indispensable utility in the thirty years that have elapsed since the inventor and his associates introduced it, describe as extravagant the policy of discarding out-of-date apparatus and otherwise radically improving plants and service.

Yet this policy has made the Bell system the model for the world and has established a standard of service that cannot be matched. Radical changes have been necessary from time to time to bring the service to something like the perfection which the men at the head of the national system have long had in mind, and these changes the Bell companies have not hesitated to make; nor will they in the future.

Good service requires good equipment, one that must be as good tomorrow as it was yesterday.

RECORD YEAR FOR U. S. SHIPBUILDING

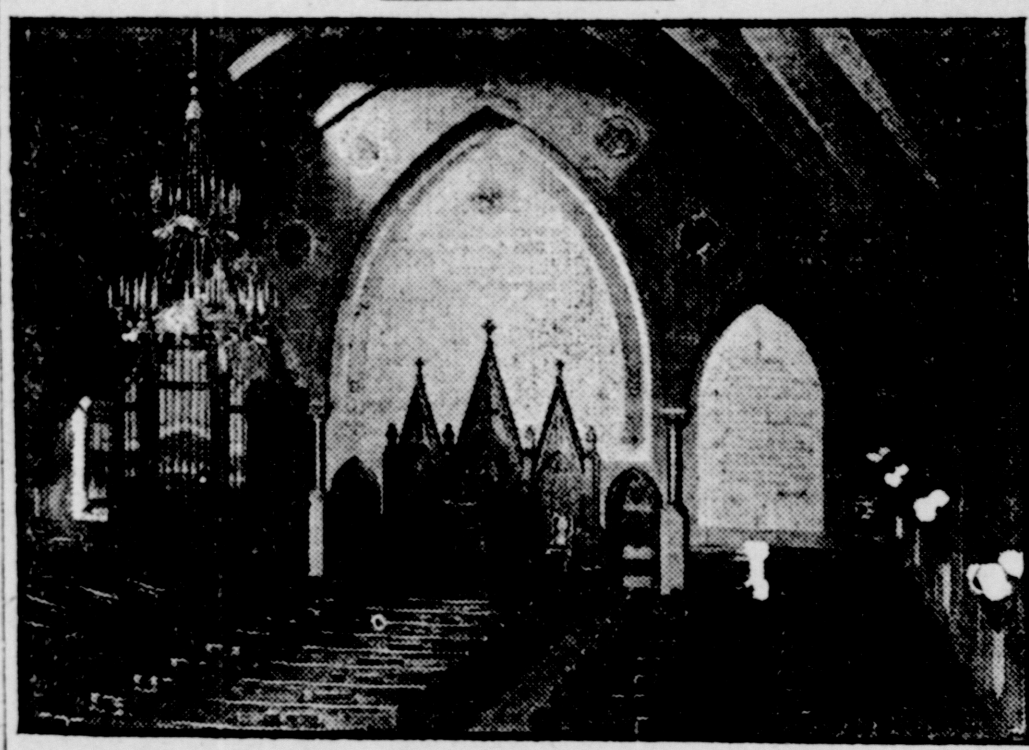

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—The fiscal year ended June 30 has been the record year of American shipbuilding, according to reports to the bureau of navigation, and the center of the industry is on the Great Lakes.

During the year, 1,506 vessels of 588,627 gross tons were built and numbered in the United States, of which 68 steel steamers of 304,379 gross tons were built on the Great Lakes. The largest annual output heretofore was in the year 1885, when 2,024 vessels of 583,450 tons were built. In that year the Great Lakes built only 263 vessels of 45,423 tons.

This year steel vessels built numbered 142 of 417,167 gross tons compared with 360,665 tons built last year. These two are the years of the largest steel construction in the United States.

The tonnage built is entirely for domestic transportation, no vessels exclusively for foreign trade having been built in the United States.

Of the 142 steel vessels, 85 exceeded 1,000 gross tons each, 55 on the Great Lakes, the largest being the William M. Mills, of 7,962 tons, and 30 on the seaboard, the largest being the Columbian of 8,579 tons,

WM. H. TAFT'S CHURCH IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 13.—Much discussion has arisen, especially among church members, as to whether William Howard Taft, republican nominee for president of the United States, is a regular church member and believer or an atheist. This discussion was caused by the statement some time ago, from a source which was thought to be reliable, that Mr. Taft was a non-believer. This paper has looked the matter up thoroughly through its representative at Washington and finds that William Howard Taft is a regular attendant at All Souls Unitarian church. This beautiful church is located on the southeast corner of Fourteenth and L streets. It is a red brick building, and is draped from steeple to steps in ivy.

The present edifice is only a little over 20 years old and before its construction the congregation worshipped in a building that later became the district police court. This building was erected in 1821, and numbered among its members such illustrious men as Calhoun, Daniel Webster and Bulfinch. The bell of this church, which was afterwards removed to the new edifice at Fourteenth and L streets, and still summons tardy devotees to prayer, was cast by Paul Revere in 1821, and bears his name. For years it was the only large bell in Washington, and was used to announce weddings, deaths, births and other festivals, to say nothing of acting as a general fire alarm.

Ever since the bell was first placed in position it has joyously tolled in the election of a president and when, through sickness or assassination, a president has passed away, the tolling of this same bell has announced the passing.

Mr. Taft is one of the most regular attendants of the church, and is a pew renter. Both his father and mother were of the Unitarian faith and his grandfather was one of the pioneers in that religion in Connecticut.

At Murray bay, Canada, where for the last 16 years Mr. Taft has spent his three months' vacation, he has been an ardent worker at the union chapel of the Presbyterian and Episcopal churches and is keenly interested in the welfare of the little church. Mrs. Taft and her daughter, Helen, as well as Charlie Taft, attend St. John's Episcopal church and Miss Taft was confirmed in that edifice about a year ago.

NEARBY CITIES TOWNS AND FARMS

ONALASKA, WIS.

The excursion boat La Crosse, which was chartered by A. N. Moore and T. G. Aiken for a trip to Winona, left the landing at 9 o'clock Sunday morning carrying about 80 passengers. Many more were kept away by the threatening weather. The boat returned at about 6 o'clock and all report a very pleasant trip.

Miss Anna Aiken entertained Friday in honor of her guest, Miss Kate Fellows, of Three Rivers, Mich., who was a college mate at the Oberlin conservatory of music, where Miss Aiken attended last year. Among the out of town guests were the Misses Ida and May Aiken and Miss Mayme Barber of La Crosse. The afternoon was spent in music, games and an automobile ride around the city. A dainty luncheon was served and the guests enjoyed a most delightful afternoon.

N. E. and L. H. Whitbeck spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitbeck of New Amsterdam.

Miss Grace E. Harris will go to Minneapolis Tuesday to visit her brother and family.

Richard Yehnk and Edward Nelson left for Montana the latter part of the week, where they expect to find employment.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Olson, a baby girl.

Miss Grace Harris entertained a party of young ladies at a missionary meeting Saturday afternoon. Light refreshments were served and the afternoon was spent in study and social talk.

Misses Ida and Myrtle Nelson went to Decorah Prairie Monday to visit friends.

T. B. Shove is seriously ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. A. Merrill and but little hope is entertained of his recovery.

A class of thirteen was confirmed at the Norwegian Lutheran church Sunday afternoon. The church was beautifully decorated. The ceremony was very impressive. Those forming the class were Misses Myrtle Nelson, Blanche Hougou, Alma Milbright, Nellie Adams, Marie Ellis, Mabel Gjestvang, Ella Sween, Amanda Kittelson, and Masters Clarence Holter, Jimmie Gilbertson, Herbert Gaarder, Oscar Anderson and Arthur Foss.

Mrs. Cora Hammond returned from a visit to her sister at Rushford, Minn., the latter part of the week. Her mother, Mrs. Gibson, accompanied her home and will visit here for a few days.

Miss Grace Houghton of West Salem was the guest of Miss Myrtle Brice on Saturday.

DAKOTA, MINN.

Mrs. Frank Smith and sister, Miss Cora Beach, left Sunday evening for Montana.

Mr. Mills and family have moved back to town.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnson, July 6, a son.

Mr. George Cordes and daughter have moved into the house he bought of C. H. Workman.

Mr. Gund and family have moved in with O. W. Tibbitts.

The Dakota regulars and Dakota Reds played a three inning game of ball Sunday afternoon. The game was a fast one, but was called on account of heat. Score, 2 to 9 in favor of the Regulars.

Gund and Tibbitts are busy putting up hay. They have a large amount to put up and they are the boys that can handle it.

Jake Loewe, Jr., substitute mail carrier, has finished his fifteen days' service and is now going into the glassware business.

John W. Donehower, our general merchant, is having some improvements made on his store. E. T. Baker of Dresbach is doing the work.

Miss Emer Smith who has been visiting friends in town for the past week returned home Sunday evening.

Chas. Beach of Witoka visited his brother Ira a few days last week, returning home Sunday evening.

Miss Emma Fietz of La Crosse was a visitor at Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McKown Saturday and Sunday.

DAILY MARKETS

Foreign Markets

NEW YORK, July 14.—The stock market was strong the early part of the hour, but persistent selling of Rock Island preferred quickly caused a heavy tone throughout the list. Prices sustained material declines from the opening figures owing to lack of support in Rock Island, accompanied by revivals of rumors of pending reorganization.

Canadian Pacific was exceedingly strong, advancing 1 1/2, although it receded for a time when Rock Island broke, but moved up again and touched a new high point for this movement. Union Pacific, after declining a point, recovered all loss. Other stocks followed U. P. Government bonds unchanged. Others irregular.

TODAY'S GRAIN GOSSIP

GRAIN OPINIONS.

Chicago.—The only thing that the bears had in line of argument was the movement of winter wheat will increase on any further advance so that market will have to take larger sales of actual wheat from now on.

It is admittedly a weather market and if we do not get rain in that section of the northwest that is now suffering from dry weather—we will have a great many more serious reports.

Corn traders who have been calling the turns on the market of late are predicting an increased movement for a few days; there are a number of points around Kankakee, Ill., that have offered corn more freely on this bulge and receipts are to increase.

CAMPAIGN TALK FOR TAFT STARTS

FRIENDS MODESTLY SAY HE "INSPIRED ROOSEVELT"

CANDIDATE GOING IT ALONE

Campaign Managers Anxious to Impress on Voters Fact that Taft Is Capable of Own Ideas

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—To say that Judge Taft's friends in Washington are pleased with the way in which he plays the political game on his own hook is putting it mildly. They are prophesying that before the campaign is over the country will be convinced that it was Taft's shrewdness that made the Roosevelt administration such a picturesque success.

A few of his most ardent admirers are pleased to contrast his behavior in the White House with President Roosevelt. They admit that had the president been handling the chairmanship rumpus that, with one dash out of the box, he would have settled it once and for all. They are rather proud of the fact that Judge Taft did not do it that way. They believe he will be the stronger for this display of consideration of all sides of the matter before taking the fatal leap. They say it will appeal to the business interests of the country that have made success possible in the past.

It is estimated that the presidential nominee is about to pull off some stunts in the Ohio political situation which will make old politicians sit up and take a second squint at Buckeye Bill. There is no denying the fact that the Ohio aggregation, which has been holding the whip hand in that state since last spring, is sore at the failure of Arthur I. Vorys, of their midst, to land

ALL WORK AND NO PLAY MAKES JACK A GROUCH---AND JILL WISH SHE WORKED AT DOERFLINGER'S

Yes—we close tomorrow at noon—12:30. We hope we discommodate no-one. We realize it's hard on some folk, perhaps, not to be able to get into their favorite Store at any time when they have a want, or unexpected need. But, when you think of the fun you're giving over 200 fellows and girls by your thoughtfulness in shopping in the morning, and self-denial of the after-noon privilege during the heated months, we know you'll feel amply repaid. If you can't come down in the morning try to postpone the shopping until Thursday—"DOLLAR DAY"—All the important stores are closed you know, and "our folks" are going to take the folks from the other fine stores in town that use their helpers "like one of the family" up river on an excursion. We hope they'll all have a bully good time together, don't you? Tell you what, it does us all good to "get together" once in a while, forget business—and become youngster. again. So the store closes tomorrow—at noon, 12:30. Do the shopping in the morning—bear in mind it's "A Closed Town" in the afternoon.

On exhibition—FREE to our patrons, all next week.

the chairmanship. They wanted the big prize for the prestige that it would give to the machine that they have been laboring on ever since Secretary Taft started out to get the Buckeye delegation to the Chicago convention.

The recent repeated visits of Senator Dick, of Ohio, to Private Citizen Taft has led to the belief that the presidential candidate is seeking to pacify all factions in Ohio at one fell swoop. Previous to the offensive and defensive alliance between Senator Foraker and Senator Dick, caused by the White house opposition to some of their plans, Senator Dick's closest allies in his Ohio fights were the present Ohio bosses who have been trying to put the Buckeye senators to sleep. Walter Brown, chairman of the state central committee; Henry S. Williams, chairman of the state executive committee, and State Auditor Walter Gullbert, were as thick with Dick as hops.

For Senator Dick to go to these Ohio leaders who thought they were about to blossom forth into national politicians, and with bared breast show them how, in the interest of party success he has set them an example by getting onto the Taft bandwagon, would have a wholesome effect. It would also have a tendency to make them believe that if they were to be President Taft's representatives in Ohio they must not let the other crowd in Ohio get onto the ground floor ahead of them.

Senator Dick made arrangements with Judge Taft to see him at Hot Springs shortly after the sub-committee selected a chairman of the national committee. At that time it is believed an understanding will be reached which will bring these two men closer together.

Wise as Judge Taft may have been in his selection of a campaign manager, his admirers point out that the greatest single factor in Buckeye Bill's campaign will be the part that Charles Taft, not the Cincinnati variety of Tafts, but of the later generation, will play in it.

Already young Charlie has been able to demonstrate unconsciously to the world that his father is a good-souled individual, made up of the same instinct that every father loves to hear extolled. Charlie has made up with the newspaper boys and is regarded as a prize winner as a press agent for his dad.

MRS. BARTOVOK FEARED FOR LIFE

Mrs. William Bartovok told a tale of cruelty and abuse before Judge Brindley claiming that her husband threatened to take her life and his own after his next payday when he would be able to buy a revolver and also that he had welded a razor in a threatening manner about her head. Mrs. Bartovok said that the intervention of her sons was all that saved her life Sunday when Mr. Bartovok in a drunken rage attacked her.

Weak and nervous from drink and imprisonment Bartovok broke down in court and sobbed out denial of the charges admitting, however, that he was guilty of assault. He claimed that he merely brought out the razor to pare a corn.

Judge Brindley ordered the defendant to procure signers to a $500 peace bond and not being able to secure these the prisoner was sentenced to the county jail for three months.

COREN TO CONTEST BANKRUPTCY CASE
A petition was filed Monday morning with Clerk of United States Court Alfred Harrison, by three New York creditors with claims of one to have L. Coren's business wound up in bankruptcy court. Mr. Coren assigned and executed a trust deed two weeks ago for the benefit of his creditors.

The bankruptcy proceedings will be contested by attorneys for Mr. Coren who announce that Mr. Coren has assets sufficient to pay all his creditors and was forced to assign through failure to realize on his holdings.

COMMERCIALS WIN FROM NEW ALBIN

CALEDONIA, Minn., July 14.—(Special.)—The Commercial of this city played ball at New Albin Sunday and defeated the team of that place by a score of 3 to 0. Eiken pitched for the Commercial and was as usual invincible, allowing the New Albins no look in for a score the third base remaining a new and undiscovered land as far as they were concerned. The Commercial did not get a hit or run until the sixth. In that inning and the seventh they bunched five hits and secured three scores. The lineup of the teams was as follows:
Commercial—Eiken, p; Hundt, c; Merlo, 1b; Duxbury, 2b; Lovett, ss; Tietz, 3b; Lomen, rf; Flynn, cf; Nelson, lf.
New Albin—Babcock, p; Lenz, c; Benrud, 1b; Borgeson, 2b; Jacques, ss; Bock, 3b; Smerud, rf; Kumpf, cf; Haberkorn, lf.
Hits—Commercial, 9; New Albin, 5. Struck out—By Eiken, 5; by Babcock, 3. Base on balls—Off Eiken, 1. Hit by pitcher—By Eiken, 1. Put out at first—By Merlo, 13; by Benrud, 16.

BRITONS TAKE SHOOTING MATCH
BISLEY, July 14.—The National Rifle association meeting opened here yesterday with unfavorable weather. The principal event today was the Waldegrave trophy for ten shots each at 800 and 900 yards and was won by Woodrow of England with a highest possible, 100. Several Americans won small money prizes, among whom were Maj. C. B. Winder of Ohio and J. W. Hession of Delaware, with scores of 98; Capt. K. V. Casey of Delaware and L. I. Eastman of Ohio, 97; Maj. W. B. Martin of New York, 96; W. F. Tieschner of New York, 92; Benedict of Ohio, 83; Capt. E. A. Greene of Washington, D. C., 91; and Lieut. Simon of Ohio, 88.

INTRODUCE DUELS IN OLYMPIC GAMES

LONDON, July 14.—Before the regular Olympic games were opened a series of duels with pistols were fought in a secluded corner of the exhibition grounds. Nobody's honor was at stake, yet several duellists were "killed," while "wounds" without number were dealt out.

It was the competition for honors of a well known Paris club, which exists to promote the sport of harmless dueling. The competitors had ice cooled pistols and frozen wax bullets. They wear a light protection over their clothes and a mask suggesting a diver's helmet.

AMERICANS KICK ON OLYMPIC TREATMENT

LONDON, July 14.—The American athletes are very much dissatisfied with the treatment they have received at the hands of the English Olympic committee, particularly in the drawing for the heats in the 1,500-meter run today. Martin Sheridan was particularly outspoken in regard to this, saying:

"They picked Sheppard and Halstead, the two best American milers, to run in the same heat and gave Wilson, the next best English miler, a walkover in his heat. Now Halstead, having been beaten by Sheppard, cannot compete in the finals, although he made much better time than the winners of the other heats.

"Anyhow, we have two men in the mile finals to England's four and Canada's one, and we stand a splendid chance of winning the final in the 1,500-meter race tomorrow as Sheppard is in great form.

"Another evidence of unfairness is the fact that, while every other team had its commissioners on the field during the games, the Olympic committee refused to grant this privilege to James E. Sullivan, although Charles Harvey, who is known as a handler of English pugilists in America, was admitted."

Protest Tom Longboat.
The Americans have decided to protest the eligibility of Tom Longboat, the Canadian Indian runner, but will abide by the decision of the committee in any event.

Fails to Salute the King.
An interesting event occurred just before the formal opening of the contests yesterday when Ralph Rose, carrying an American flag in the parade in the stadium, failed to lower it when passing the king's stand as those of all other nations did. Rose did not give any reason for not lowering his flag.

Rose's action at first bothered the Americans but it met with the approval of his teammates and others who were indignant when they saw there were no American flags displayed in the stadium, America and Sweden being slighted in this respect. The only American flags were those carried by the American spectators.

The Irish athletes did not parade with the British. Dennis Horgan, Con Leahy and Con Walsh sat in the grandstand as spectators during the parade.
